Storm Traveling Toward Coast

HURRICANE GAINS SLOWLY IN AREA AND INTENSITY

Position Of Center About 600 Miles South Of Florida

CRAFT GIVEN WARNING

Disturbance In Eastern Caribbean Reported Dissipating

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—A fully developed tropical hurricane today moved slowly toward the Peninsula of Yucatan in Mexico.

Its position was charted at 10 a. m. by the weather bureau as about 190 miles slightly north of east of Cape Gracias a Dios, Nicaragua, and its movement was apparently northwestward, a change in course since last night's advisory when it was reported going westward.

"This fully developed hurricane is moving very slowly and apparently is changing the direction of its movement," said the weather bureau's morning advisory.

The storm was reported increasing slowly in area and intensity.

The present position of the center was some 600 miles south southwest of the extreme tip of Florida.

Vessels were warned to exercise caution in the northwestern Caribbean sea south of Yucatan and Cuba.

The San Juan weather bureau reported the disturbance in the eastern Caribbean was dissipating.

Meteorologist Dunn said the western hurricane center was moving about four miles an hour or less over a small area and the bureau has not yet fully determined the angle of its recurve in course since last night.

A ship just south of the center reported a barometer reading of 29.29 with northwest winds. This might indicate, Dunn said, the disturbance possibly would pass through the Yucatan channel into the Gulf of Mexico, but the slow movement of the center prevented any certainty.

"As long as the storm is moving so slowly," said Dunn, "there is plenty of time for warning Florida should it menace the peninsula."

The meteorologist placed the center about 475 miles southeast of the Yucatan channel and approximately 650 miles south of Miami, Fla.

Weather Bureau Issues Warning

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm advisory:

"Advisory 10 a. m.—Tropical hurricane in the western Caribbean sea is located about 190 miles slightly north of east of Cape Gracias, Nicaragua.

"This is a fully developed hurricane and is moving very slowly and apparently is changing the direction of its movement. The present indicated movement is toward the northwest.

"This storm is increasing slowly in area and intensity. Caution advised vessels in the northwestern Caribbean sea south of the Yucatan channel and Cuba for the next 36 hours."

Desire For Milk Brings About Slaying Charge

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Sept. 26.—(AP)—John Bey, whose fondness for milk involved him in a killing and led to his arrest, pleaded guilty today to being a fugitive from justice from Connecticut and waived extradition in district court.

Bey's desire for a drink of milk, police charged, brought him to a barn in Ellington, Conn., August 31, where Constable John De Carli, lay in wait to put a stop to the activities of a milk thief. De Carli shouted: "Put up your hands," but the answer he received was a fatal bullet in the abdomen.

Last night the 38-year-old fugitive, whom Massachusetts and Connecticut state police had hunted throughout this area since September 13, was captured after he had asked for a glass of milk at the milk shed of David LaCourse in the village of Florence, a few miles north of here.

LOAN OFFICIAL DIES

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—John N. Frowen, 75, president of the Suburban Building and Loan association, died at his home here yesterday. Funeral services were to be held today. He had been connected with the association since it was founded in December, 1894.

Operation Delayed By Objection

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Margaret Kerston, 15-year-old girl critically ill with a ruptured appendix, was removed to a hospital today after her mother yielded to the pleas of priests, physicians and police to abandon her objections to surgical treatment for her daughter.

The mother, Mrs. Anna Kerston, had stubbornly refused all night to consent to an operation which Dr. William McCormick said was needed immediately.

Two priests, Police Chief Joseph Gutowski, and several physicians were admitted to the house this morning, and several hours later the girl was carried to an ambulance and taken to Perth Amboy General hospital.

She's 'Pretty Bad'

At the hospital, officials said that the girl would be operated on immediately. Her condition, they said, was "pretty bad," but added there was

YOUTH CONFESSES GIVING POISON TO UNCLE AND AUNT

Also Tells Of Driving Car With Bodies Into Ocean

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Detective Lieutenant Frank Condaffer said today 19-year-old LeRoy Drake, Jr., has admitted he slipped poison into the coffee his aunt and uncle drank a week ago and attempted to hide their deaths by shunting their bodies off a pier into the ocean in their own automobile.

Drake was booked on suspicion of murder of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinheur, both 60.

The confession of the curly-haired junior college student came a few hours after the bodies were recovered from the submerged automobile in San Pedro harbor.

He admitted from the start, Condaffer said, that he had disposed of the bodies, but maintained for a time that his uncle was poisoned by his aunt, who then ended her own life.

"I was awaiting hearing on an application for probation on conviction of the theft of an automobile," Condaffer quoted Drake as saying. "I

POSSE TO CLOSE IN ON CONVICTS

One Is Captured, Others Are Hunted After Officer Is Shot

ATMORE, Ala., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Possemen prepared to move in today on two desperate and armed convicts, believed surrounded in a swamp near here last night after overpowering a state prison farm guard and critically wounding a warden who attempted to follow them with track dogs.

A third convict, Albert Elder, who took part in overpowering the guard, walked into the arms of possemen on a highway and surrendered without resistance a short time after Warden Oscar Dees was shot in the abdomen.

The condition of Warden Dees was described as critical by attaches at a Century, Fla., hospital to which he was taken after being shot down as he dismounted on sighting the trio which was being followed by dogs. Warden Frank Boswell, of Kilby prison at Montgomery, was accompanying Dees at the time.

Those convicts still at large were Ralph McCluskey and Raymond Jefferies and possemen said they expect-

McComb Child Is Shot Fatally By Brother

McCOMB, Miss., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of her brother, Robert, 5, proved fatal to 3-year-old Bernice Sullivan as they played under their house here yesterday. The charge struck the child in the chest.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sullivan, said the boy had slipped out of the house with the gun.

TULLY'S SON GOES TO PRISON

PRESS REPORTS DISSENSION IN IL DUCE CABINET

French Publications Say Sentiment Against Premier Growing

PARIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Rumors of dissension within Premier Mussolini's cabinet over the Ethiopian campaign were published by the Leftist press today.

These newspapers speculated as to the possibility of a revolt in Italy and hinted that England would like to see a friendlier government in power in Italy.

The newspaper L'Oeuvre printed a report from Geneva that Luigi Federzoni, president of the Italian senate, had made "a courageous criticism of Il Duce's policy" at Tuesday's cabinet meeting in Rome.

The newspaper added another report that Marshal Badoglio, "in a visit to the king during the evening, did not hide his misgivings as to the final success of the Italians in Ethiopia."

The newspaper Republique said: "The powerful Italian ambassador to Paris, Count Carlo Sforza, now an exile, is close to Dino Grandi, the Italian ambassador to London, and it

150,000 TO HEAR POPE'S BLESSING

Huge Crowd At Eucharistic Meet To Hear Apostolic Talk

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 26.—(AP)—A "tidal wave" of humanity—estimated by Traffic Commissioner Edward Donahue, at 150,000 persons—swept toward Cleveland's huge lakeside stadium today to hear Pope Pius XI broadcast from Rome his apostolic blessing to the National Eucharistic congress.

Donahue said it was the biggest crowd in the history of Cleveland, yet at the time he gave his estimate, six hours in advance of the pope's broadcast, the crowd was still increasing.

Trains, bus lines, trolley cars and automobiles continued to pour into Cleveland thousands of visitors from

SIX ARRESTED IN NEW ORLEANS IN DYERS' DISPUTE

Crude Bombs And Dynamite Are Seized By Police

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Bombs and dynamite were recovered today and six men were arrested by the police here in an alleged conspiracy to harass and intimidate owners of dyeing and cleaning establishments into raising their prices for work.

One crude bomb was taken by the police from one of two men arrested last night on the street. Five sticks of dynamite were recovered from the premises of an establishment on Fern street and statements were obtained by officers that attempts already had

COTTON PICKING STRIKERS HELD

Union Officials Claim Pay Raised After Workers Walk Out

WYNNE, Ark., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Three purported members of the Southern Tenant Farmers' union remained in jail at Blytheville today as union officials claimed the threat of a paralyzing strike had resulted in increased pay for cotton pickers on a number of plantations.

Excitement over the strike of the cotton pickers was on the wane today, but H. L. Mitchell, union secretary, said 4,000 workers had walked out. Officers and planters denied that there was any appreciable response to the strike call.

The union is demanding $1 per hundred pounds for the pickers, and

Cub-Cardinal Series Is Postponed By Rain

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Rain today forced a postponement of the Cardinal-Cub series to determine definitely whether the world champion St. Louis club can halt the rampaging and pennant bound men of Grimm.

A doubleheader will be played tomorrow, the first game beginning at 12:45 p.m., C. S. T. Hoping against hope that the rain, which began early this morning might slacken, the Cardinal management held up a definite postponement announcement until nearly 11 a.m.

PLANS FOR EARLY CAMPAIGN MADE BY REPUBLICANS

Hard-Hitting Drive Against Roosevelt Promised By Leaders

CANDIDATE UNPICKED

Hoover And Borah Get Most Prominent Mention In Talk

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Republican party machine was geared today for an early start on the campaign to defeat President Roosevelt next year, but there was no sign of an agreement on the candidate to run against him.

Plans for an early, hard-hitting campaign were laid yesterday by the national executive committee in its first meeting since before the Democratic landslide last year. Members of the group were homeward bound today, cheered by reports of reviving Republican sentiment.

Officially the committee was not concerned with candidacies. Unofficially, they were uppermost in everyone's mind. The big question marks in the speculation were Herbert Hoover and William E. Borah.

Hoover Friends Silent

Close friends of former President Hoover and some of the other men prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination were present in the hotel where the committee met. Mr. Hoover's friends refused to discuss his plans for publication. Chairman Fletcher denied the committee had considered candidacies.

(In New York, however, the New York Times said Mr. Hoover's friends had "definitely informed members of the executive committee of the Republican national committee that he was not a candidate for the nomination for president next year." His sole interest in the party, as its titular leader, they declared, was to see the nomination of a "standard-bearer uncompromisingly opposed to New Deal policies and the adoption of an 'anti-socialistic platform'."

(When these reports were called to Mr. Hoover's attention at his California home by a close friend, he was

SUIT TO PREVENT COLLECTING LEVY ON GRAIN DENIED

Meridian Company Is Given Right To Sue For Recovery

MERIDIAN, Miss., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The attempt of the Meridian Grain and Elevator company in federal court here to prevent collection of the government processing tax by federal officials has failed, but the company was given the right to sue for recovery of taxes paid.

Federal Judge Edwin R. Holmes of Yazoo City, in an opinion announced here yesterday by United States Attorney R. M. Boudreaux of Meridian, dismissed the company's suit for an injunction to prevent Eugene Fly, collector of internal revenue, from collecting the tax, and transferred the case to the law docket.

The company, Judge Holmes stated, failed to show grounds for "equitable relief," because it had and still has a plain, adequate and complete remedy at law."

"The government has provided a complete system of corrective justice in the administration of its revenue laws," Judge Holmes said in his opinion, • • • "with ultimate provisions for recovering the tax, after it is paid, by a suit against the collecting officer."

Lake Pontchartrain Wall Near Completion

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The five and one-half mile seawall and roadway on Lake Pontchartrain, started ten years ago, is nearing completion.

Only one of the bridges on the project needs to be completed. The Bridges over the Orleans canal and London avenue canal were opened to traffic today. It will require several months to complete the remaining span over Bayou St. John at Spanish Fort.

LION BITES ACTOR MAKING FILM

Just a few moments before a large African lion pounced upon Charles Bickford and took a deep bite into the back of his neck, the actor and the beast were snapped by a photographer as they were filming a scene. Bickford and the lion had worked together for three weeks, but it suddenly turned on him when it was supposed to jump over his back. (Associated Press Photo)

AMERICAN LEGION DELEGATES HOOT WRIGHT PATMAN

Bonus Bill's Author Is Greeted By Scorn And Cat Calls

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Delegates to the National American Legion convention today booed Representative Wright Patman of Texas, advocate of payment of the bonus by inflation, when he sought to obtain the floor during debate on a bonus resolution.

The Texas congressman, author of the bonus inflation bill vetoed by President Roosevelt, then was given a hearing but delegates interrupted him with frequent cat calls.

Patman's appearance was a few minutes after the legislative committee had recommended immediate payment of adjusted compensation certificates without inflation. When he said he favored immediate payment of the bonus the delegates shouted their scorn.

Patman was cheered, however, as he concluded his argument that the method of payment was secondary to the main issue. He talked less than five minutes.

The resolution presented to the convention read as follows:

"Be it resolved:

"1—We request immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates at face value, with cancellation of accrued interest on loans, and re-

U. S. Will Combat Soil Erosion On Grand Isle

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The United States government and Louisiana have combined forces to combat erosion on Grand Isle, on the Louisiana coast.

Announcement was made yesterday that a scientific study to eliminate further erosion on the isle will be made jointly by the war department and the state.

The war department is giving $3,000 toward the study and the sum is to be matched by the state, John Klorer, state engineer, announced.

A preliminary survey of beach and shore conditions at the resort, Mr. Klorer said, shows "very aggravated erosion," the survey showing that in the past 15 years from 13 to 15 per cent of the island has been swept into the gulf.

Sand origin, wind conditions, currents and waves will all be gone into to determine means of combatting the destructive process.

Grand Isle is approximately eight miles long and one-half mile wide.

GULFPORT CALLS ON OFFICERS TO KEEP PORT OPEN

Chamber Of Commerce Asks For Quick Handling Of Cargoes

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—One of four southern cities threatened with a strike of longshoremen on October 1 today called upon law-enforcing officers to keep its port open.

The chamber of commerce at Gulfport made the demand, asserting that shippers and steamship lines should be assured of expeditious handling of their cargoes.

"We pledge our hearty cooperation to the constituted authorities to see that the law is enforced and order preserved," a resolution said.

TWO IN ORLEANS TAKE OWN LIVES

57-Year-Old Man And 19-Year-Old Youth Are Victims

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A 57-year-old man and a 19-year-old youth took their lives here early today in separate suicides by drinking poison.

The elderly man, his friends told police, had been brooding because his bride spurned him and left him a week after their marriage. He was Philip Fitzpatrick, an inspector for the state board of health.

The younger victim was Jack Ellender, who drank poison on the street and left a note in his pocket addressed to no one, in which he wrote: "I haven't anyone to love me." "Luck to all, with kisses."

The police said Ellender had tried three times to take his life in the past few days, but recovered from effects of poison under Charity hospital treatment.

Sergeant Andrew Cotter quoted a companion of Fitzpatrick as saying that Fitzpatrick was despondent over the departure of his bride of a month ago.

The companion said he and Fitzpatrick went to the latter's home early today and that while he was watching Fitzpatrick the man lifted a small glass to his mouth, muttered "God bless you and good-bye" and fell over dead almost immediately before his eyes.

ANY AGGRESSION FOR PERIOD MAY BRING SANCTIONS

Council Decides To Draft Report On Ethiopian Situation

TROOP MOVE DELAYED

Action Attributed To Easing Of Italy's And Britain's Tension

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The League of Nations council today gave notice to Italy and Ethiopia that they cannot start war until December 4 without violating the league covenant.

If either one starts aggressive hostilities before that date, that nation will be deemed to have committed an act of war against all members of the League of Nations—thereby automatically calling for punishment by the other nations.

This notice was implied by a unanimous vote—with the Italian delegates conspicuously absent—to draft a report of recommendations for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict under article XV of the covenant and a decision that this article was in operation as from Sept. 4.

This means three months must elapse from that date before hostilities can be undertaken without disregard of the covenant.

Situation Tense

The action was taken in tense excitement and in the space of 70 minutes.

Previous to the momentous session, the corridors of the league building were a milling mob of statesmen and observers. Foreign ministers elbowed prime ministers in the throng.

They viewed, with fast moving ripples of comment, the act of the Italian delegation which stalked out of the building after a toast at the bar before the council's public session began.

When the final vote was over, one delegate inadvertently banged out the climax by stumbling into a large metal waste basket at the head of the lobby stairs.

The metal container of castoff communiques bounced noisily down the steps in 12 clashes like the strokes of a bell.

Looming up out of the council's rapid but solemn discussion was the unqualified rallying by France to the application of the league covenant in "its letter and spirit."

This support, given by Premier Laval of France in a brief speech supporting Great Britain, was interpreted by many observers as indicating that France has received satisfactory assurances from Great Britain that in any future European conflict Great Britain will insist on the same scrupulous application of the covenant as she is calling for in the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia.

Some said they saw in Laval's speech a particular indication that Great Britain will stand by France in the event of any complications growing out of any attempt to destroy the independence of Austria.

To Meet Again Tomorrow

The council probably will meet again tomorrow to discuss Emperor Haile Selassie's request that a commission of neutral observers be sent to the Ethiopian frontiers to follow the situation and to forestall any military clashes.

Some observers said they saw in the speeches of both Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Maxim Litvinoff of Russia an indication that conversations on the "sanctions" which might be employed against Italy will be vigorously pursued.

Eden said in his speech that while the council's report was being drafted, "the governments will have an opportunity to consider whether, and if

Celebrating the five thousand six hundred ninety-sixth anniversary of the creation of the world, according to the Jewish calendar, the Jews of Monroe will usher in Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's day, Friday at sundown with appropriate services at Temple B'Nai Israel and in various homes.

New Year's day will be the beginning of the Jewish high holidays, the days of penitence following Rosh Hashanah and ending with Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, starting on October 6 in the evening and closing at sunset the following day.

Yom Kippur, the most sacred day of the Jewish year, is featured by prayer and fasting which begin with the blowing of the shofar, or ram's horn, calling the people to worship.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Washburn have just received word from their daughter, Miss Genevra Washburn, of her landing in New York City following an advantageous summer spent in France, where she specialized in French at Grenoble university. Miss Washburn made her home with a French family, lived their life and spoke their language during her stay in Grenoble. She also enjoyed a visit in Paris before returning home. Miss Washburn has been a member of the faculty of the New York City school system for several years.

Mrs. Thomas Jones, a former resident of this city who has made her home in Dublin, Ireland, for the past eight years, arrived in Monroe on Thursday and will occupy her plantation home on Bayou DeSiard. Mrs. Jones is a sister of Mr. Robert Fennell.

Of interest to friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maude Gates of Sikes, La., and Mr. Charles Godwin of West Monroe, on the fourteenth of September. Mr. and Mrs. Godwin are now at home to their friends at 218 South Riverfront, West Monroe.

WINS IN SEWING SPEED CONTEST—Mrs. George Maxim, shown here receiving the blue ribbon in a recent sewing machine race, reveals her secret, "Of course, I've been sewing a long time, and that gives you speed. But the real reason I won—and I may as well tell you—is that I was using J. & P. Coats best 6-cord thread, and it seldom breaks. You'd be surprised at the time you can waste, because of a snapping thread!"

Except on rainy days, children forget their toys at this time of year and find their amusement out of doors—in playgrounds, at swimming pools and parks. With Christmas three months away it is hard for Junior to remember that he must be a good boy now if he wishes to be visited by Santa Claus later. But Santa Claus himself is thinking of the thousands of stockings he will have to fill and, being a smart old fellow, is doing his Christmas shopping early.

The season for the wholesale buying of Christmas toys is now at its peak. Wholesale toy firms are busy from morning until night taking orders from buyers from out of town. The merchandise will not be shipped until late in November or early in December, but Santa Claus knows already what he will send to the various parts of the United States. Santa had his henchmen looking over the new gadgets shown at the toy fair at the Hotel McAlpin in New York, and now he is placing his orders for the things his children will like.

The typical display room of mechanical toys sounds like bedlam these days. And no wonder! At the table on the right a dignified gentleman is shooting a toy machine gun that gives forth realistic sparks with a loud rat-a-tat-tat, while his associate sends a roller-skate scooting back and forth across the floor. At the next table are seated three men, one of whom is interestedly watching a bright red fire engine racing over the table top while its siren screams. Another is sending a squealing tin cat back and forth. A third is testing the climbing ability of a fighting tank that shoots sparks from its guns.

There are all kinds of motor vehicles for the playroom: There is a garage which houses nine cars, including a coast-to-coast bus; a snappy blue roadster, a taxi and different kinds of trucks. There are canvas-topped CCC trucks and CCC dump trucks and police pursuit cars and police and fire chief cars with sirens that scream as the machines dash along.

The little girl will find all modern conveniences for her doll playhouse next Christmas. She will have tiny electric irons and toasters, and maybe Santa will bring her one of the miniature electric stoves that will really heat and cook whatever she wants it to.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens and sister, Mrs. John Gernon, returned home the first of the week from an interesting motor trip to St. Louis and points in Iowa. They also enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Edmonds of Hot Springs, Ark., en route home.

Mrs. F. S. Connor of Birmingham, Ala., who arrived in the city Tuesday to attend the funeral services for her cherished friend, Mrs. Katherine Pegram, returned to her home Thursday morning.

Mrs. Louis Langford will leave this week for Washington, D. C., where she will enjoy a visit with her sister, Miss Sara Larche, who is making her home in that city.

Mrs. M. Emmich and two splendid children completed a visit with Mrs. Emmich's mother, Mrs. Evelyn Relms, in her suite at the Frances hotel and returned to their home in Jackson, Miss., the first of the week.

Mrs. Christine Moore is entertaining her sister, Mrs. E. A. Klapp of Milwaukee, Wis., and her cousin, Miss Kate Firmin of Seattle, Wash., who is en route to New Orleans, where she has accepted a position as librarian at Tulane university. Mrs. O. M. Grisham will entertain at luncheon today in honor of Mrs. Klapp and Miss Firmin and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kellogg will entertain at dinner tonight.

Mrs. W. J. Tremaine's and Miss Wanda Tremaine's compliment to Miss Elizabeth Platt, lovely October bride, will be a tea at their home on North Fourth street Friday evening at five o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Jack Selig will leave today for Chicago, where they will enjoy a visit in the home of Mrs. Selig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Wise, and, incidentally, be present for the celebration of Mr. Wise's ninety-first birthday anniversary. Mr. Selig will spend several days in New York City before returning home.

Mrs. Ray Leonard, Mrs. E. F. Kenny, Mrs. Sam Wilson and Mrs. M. Head have returned home from an enjoyable week's visit in New Orleans, where they attended the convention of the auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dorman will be at home to their friends during the winter in the J. M. Lee apartments on Walnut street.

The Sadler Bible class will meet at the Methodist church Friday night. Following a business meeting and installation of officers, a social hour will be featured.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE PARAMOUNT—Springtime is love time in the gayest of world capitals, as audiences will soon discover when Paramount's "Paris in Spring" comes today to the Paramount theater.

Mary Ellis and Tullio Carminati head the cast of this film, a medley of laughter and songs woven about a romantic story. They are two people who love each other very dearly, but who just won't admit it.

Carminati, in a fit of desperation, threatens to commit suicide, even goes to the Eiffel Tower to carry out his threat, and meets there Ida Lupino, a lovely girl in a similar plight. Rather than commit suicide, they decide to combine forces and make their respective sweethearts furiously jealous.

The plan works so well that Miss Ellis and Ralph Blakely, Miss Lupino's sweetheart, get together in self-protection.

Police pursue Carminati who is charged with abducting Miss Lupino, but he and the girl flee to her grandmother's ancestral castle on the outskirts of Paris.

There is much confusion and misunderstanding. The wrong couples are supposed to be married to each other, and a hilarious mix-up finally reaches its climax when Miss Ellis and Carminati are happily rejoined, and Miss Lupino and Blakely decide that they will be married.

Lewis Milestone directed the film which features a new musical score by Gordon and Revel, including "Why Do They Call It Gay Paree?" and "Bon Jour Mam'selle." In the supporting cast of "Paris in Spring" are Lynne Overman and Jessie Ralph.

AT THE CAPITOL—Teamed in the leading roles of "Calm Yourself," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sprightly new photoplay of a "confidential services" operator, which comes to the Capitol theater, are Robert Young and Madge Evans, distinguished as co-players in such recent pictures as "Death on the Diamond" and "Paris Interlude."

Besides these, Miss Evans recently appeared in M-G-M's great "David Copperfield," and Young in the sky epic, "West Point of the Air."

George Seitz, director of the recent popular "Times Square Lady," "Society Doctor" and "Shadow of Doubt," also directed the new "Calm Yourself," produced by Lucian Hubbard.

The able supporting cast includes Betty Furness in the role of Mary-Elizabeth, Miss Evans' runner-up; Ralph Morgan, as the tempestuous father; Nat Pendleton, as a not-too-bright gangster; Shirley Ross, as an understanding young wife; Hardie Albright, as a hapless suitor, Claude Gillingwater, Raymond Hatton and Herman Bing.

Adapted by Arthur Kober from an original story by Edward Hope, "Calm Yourself" is a romantic comedy-drama dealing with the exploits of a young advertising man who, bounced out of his fiancee's father's business, starts a "confidential service" agency which promises to handle any chore for the subscriber who is admonished to calm himself.

When one of these chores is to take care of the comely daughter of an affluent business man, trouble begins. Caring for an infant heir to a large fortune, complicates things further when "confidential services" is suspected of being a kidnapping ring, but a triumphant and unsuspected solution is found.

ENEMY'S KISS

by Evelyn M. Winch

SYNOPSIS: Alison Rede has come to a lonely house in Sussex in response to a telegram ostensibly from her father. But her father does not meet her; instead she is frightened by a horrible hairless man, and saved by another and very personable man. But neither can explain why Alison's father should neither have met her nor have let her know why. Although in the back of Alison's mind is the fact that her father is about to remarry.

Chapter Seven

MYSTERY DEEPENS

ALISON abandoned the argument. She said defiantly, "I'm going to Warley now, to telephone."

"I think not."

"Who's going to stop me?" She had a small round chin and she stuck it out firmly.

"I am. You're under orders." He said it good-humoredly, his eyes twinkling, but there was a faint, steely inflection in his voice. "And you're going to do what you're told. You've just had a bad shock. You're not fit to trudge six miles in the rain at this time of night. You're going to lie down here while I go into Warley."

"I'd really rather go with you!" The thought of renewing her vigil in the house shook Alison completely.

"You won't be alone." He strode across to the window and flung it open, leaning out, gave a shrill whistle. Something large and white flashed up from the wet darkness outside and, bending, he pulled up over the sill a very large, wet, white bulldog.

"Oh!" Alison stared at the dog which was leaping excitedly up on its master and spattering drops across the kitchen from its threshing body and tail. A dog superbly ugly with a tan patch over one eye.

"Down, down, there! Meet Gaffe. We call him that because his manners are so bad." He forced the dog down and made it lift one paw. But Alison was not looking at the dog. She had gone white.

"Was he out there—all the time?"

"Yes. I left him on guard. Why?"

"D-don't you see? You said the—the thing I saw got out of the pantry window—"

"Yes?"

"If that's true, why didn't Gaffe get him?"

"THAT'S certainly a point." There was no laughter now. They were both serious as they stood facing one another.

"But we've searched the house!"

"I know."

"But the doors were all locked inside, and the windows."

"That's just it."

"You — you don't think Gaffe would have missed him?" she asked it almost hopefully; the notion of that grey face hiding now in some dark corner, waiting, was too horrible.

"No, I don't." Gaffe's master was decisive. "But I don't believe in ghosts either."

"Then you mean?"

"There's some other way in and out, that's all. . . ."

"I'm not going to stay here alone!"

"No, you can't do that," he agreed at once. "But you can't walk six miles either, in this storm." He shut the window slowly, frowning. "Do many people know you're here?"

"No. No one. Except my father."

He nodded. "You don't know anyone round about?"

"No. You see—" Breathlessly Alison plunged into her story. He listened until she had quite finished, watching her with a rather intent gaze.

"I see," he said at last. "Then you haven't a notion why your father asked you to come?"

"I simply can't imagine!"

"It's—odd."

"Isn't it?"

"You don't think it's even the sort of house he'd be likely to take?"

"No. I don't!"

He pondered a minute.

When he spoke again, the question startled Alison.

"What does your father do? I mean for a living?"

"Father? Nothing. I mean, he's got enough money and he's retired. He simply travels a bit and lives in London."

"I see. And you've just finished school?"

"Yes. . . ."

He said slowly 'I don't understand it. There's something fishy about it somewhere, isn't there? But I'm not going to leave you here, and apart from getting a chill, we can't turn up at a hotel in Warley together round two o'clock in the morning without luggage, can we?"

"I suppose not."

"THEN there's only one thing to be done." He was brisk now. "There's a perfectly good bedroom upstairs and you're going to use it. Now don't look at me like that! You'll be quite safe. You're going to lock the door inside and take Gaffe with you. I don't care what you saw, if Gaffe once gets his teeth into it that'll be that. I'll wait down here and explain to your father when he comes."

"But—" she began.

"Not but." He was smiling.

He pulled up a large wet bulldog.

"There's no 'but' about it at all."

"I'm not going to leave you to sit up alone with that!" declared Alison.

He laughed softly. "My dear girl, I don't mind little Herbert!"

"You haven't seen him!" she retorted.

By way of answer he took her firmly by one elbow and led her towards the door.

"You've got Gaffe," he said, "and if little Herbert's human, God help him, that's all! I'll be awake and listening if you call. Personally, I'm non-psychic, ghost-proof and impervious to suggestion, so don't worry about me! The thing for you to do's to get straight off to sleep. You're dead tired and you're shivering."

"I'm not, only—"

"Only the thought that little Herbert may be lurking about gives you the jimjams?" he guessed. "Madam, by tomorrow morning, either Gaffe or I will have laid little Herbert permanently, we'll bring you the remains with morning tea. In the meantime, you're going to try and get some sleep."

"But—I don't see why you should. I mean I can sit up all night—there's no reason why you should do all this for me."

"Oh, I'm used to it." He added rather quickly. "Let me see you get into that room and lock the door. By the way, is there a key?"

"They're all in the pantry."

She let him pick out the right key, lead the way upstairs, fit it into the lock on the inside and made sure that there was no sign of any grey-faced ghost inside the room, carefully.

October 16 Is Deadline For Road Building Bids

OAK GROVE, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Bids for approximately five miles of gravel road construction in West Carroll parish will be received by the Louisiana Highway commission not later than October 16, according to an official announcement.

The project intersects route No. 11, the east-west highway across the parish through Oak Grove, about four and one-half miles west of here, and runs in a northwesterly direction for more than four miles to intersect route No. 207, commonly known as the "Braswell road." The road, which is to be graded and surfaced, is known as the Fiske community road.

Advertising of proposals for the construction of this project by the state is the first work of this type to take form in the parish under the present proposed program. Approximately 40 miles of rural graveled roads are planned for West Carroll, it is unofficially reported.

Legion Auxiliary Installs Officers For Coming Year

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Officers for the year were installed at a recent meeting of the Tallulah chapter of the American Legion auxiliary. The gathering was featured by a musical program and a report by the child welfare committee.

The installation was conducted by Mrs. R. K. Boney. Mrs. R. T. Campbell presided over the business session.

Mrs. Boney, program leader, read a message from the national music chairman, which was followed by a piano selection by Mrs. R. C. Leeves. A group of the girl scouts, accompanied by Mrs. Leeves, rendered a vocal number, "Juanita." Miss Gaines, accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Horn, at the piano, sang two popular numbers. Mrs. Horn also played several selections of popular music.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. A. L. Sevier, president; Mrs. Fred McDuff, first vice-president and secretary; Mrs. J. C. Smith, second vice-president; Mrs. Ira Baxter, treasurer; Mrs. Wray Bowie, chaplain, and Mrs. H. B. Lancaster, sergeant-at-arms.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Norma Jean Nobles, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Nobles, 205 South Third street, West Monroe, underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday night, at Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic. She was reported Thursday to be getting along nicely.

CARDUI DURING MIDDLE LIFE

While she was going through the change of life, Mrs. Susan Price, of Hallsboro, N. C., was "very weak at times, and had to go to bed," she writes. "I couldn't sleep well and didn't have an appetite. I was so nervous, I was always looking for something bad to happen. I read of Cardui and took it. It helped my nerves so much and gave me strength and built me up. I took Cardui off and on for two years. . . . I have recommended Cardui to other people, hoping they would be helped and given strength as I was with this good remedy."

been made to bomb plants, but that the tossed bombs failed to explode.

Chief of Detectives John J. Grosch and a heavy squad of officers spent the entire night running down clues to the perpetrators of the alleged conspiracy and announced the results of their raiding activities today.

Conspiracy Charged

The six men arrested were charged tentatively with "conspiracy to commit murder through use of dynamite."

Those arrested were booked as Robert Lit[illegible], 39; Robert Breen, 40; Leo R. Wertheimer, a New Orleans attorney; Henry W. Goff, 51, said to be business representative of a local organization, all white; and Walter Johnson, 36, and Nathaniel Reed, 27, negroes.

Some of those arrested were said by officers to be operators of dyeing and cleaning establishments.

Higher Prices Sought

Grosch said that from information he obtained after the arrests an attempt was being made to force all cleaning and dyeing establishments to join the local organization and to force price raises from as low as 18 cents a

He said establishments which refused to join the "monopoly" were threatened with "bombing at any expense" and that he had uncovered evidence of the throwing of at least two bombs which did not explode.

The first arrests were made early today when the officers came upon three negroes standing at the corner of Jackson avenue and Howard street.

One of the negroes escaped at the approach of the officers, but the two men booked as Johnson and Reed were captured. The officers reported that they found a bomb ten inches long on the person of Johnson.

The bomb was made of dynamite enclosed in a piece of pipe with five-foot fuses at each end.

ELECTED SECRETARY

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—At a recent meeting of the Tallulah Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. F. A. Yarbrough was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. R. C. Walker, who has moved from the community. Mrs. R. N. Ware, the new president, presided over the gathering, a feature of which was a talk by Mrs. J. R. Linton on "Founding a Home." The president's message was read by Mrs. G. M. Fuller. The organization voted to make plans for a school of instruction and to participate in the local Red Cross membership campaign, which is being sponsored by the American Legion.

ANY AGGRESSION FOR PERIOD MAY BRING SANCTIONS

so, how, anything further can be done to safeguard peace."

Litvinoff was deemed to have made an even clearer allusion to sanctions when he said no doubt could be entertained regarding the response his government would give to "any proposals which the council may make for the safeguarding of the peace of Africa as well as other continents and for maintaining the league covenant."

In connection with this angle, league officials stated that the council has the power to put into its recommendations, if it wishes, suggestions for economic and financial sanctions and other general measures of restraint against a nation which launches war after rejecting the recommendations.

League Will Act Against War Moves

(By Associated Press)

The League of Nations acted rapidly today to warn Italy and Ethiopia that any hostilities before December 4 will put the aggressor nation automatically in the status of committing an act of war against all members of the league.

The council decided to draft a report and recommendations for peace in east Africa.

After the Italian delegation left the league secretarint building the council adopted a recommendation to proceed under Article XV of the covenant. The Ethiopian representative accepted an invitation to attend the session.

Recommendations thus drawn, if adopted unanimously, would mark an act of war against all league members any violation, leading to sanctions.

Council members decided, too, to ask their five-power committee to continue to take advantage of any opportunity for conciliation, not passing judgment on the failure report of the committee of five.

Council Not Closed

The council president, Enrique Ruiz Guinazu of Argentina, proposed that article XV should be considered as having begun to operate September 4. He said the council would not be closed, but could be called at any time.

Anthony Eden of England told the council Britain was "steadfastly determined to abide by its policy," and the spokesman for other powers supported his stand.

Italian authorities called off the sailing of some 10,000 troops originally destined to guard the frontier of Italy's north African possession of Libya, bordering on Egypt.

The action was attributed to an easing of tension between Britain and Italy, and general Italian opinion swung to admission of the possibility that the league might take some constructive step toward further discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

Britain Betters Defenses

Great Britain, disclosing a program to mass its entire Mediterranean fleet in Greek waters near Italian naval concentrations, also looked to its home defenses. A program was advanced for instruction in how to act in the event of bomb attacks.

In the capital of the east African center of the controversy, Emperor Haile Selassie gave France permission to station troops at Deridawa to help preserve order and protect the Franco-Ethiopian railway.

The eve of the festival of Maskal, marking the end of the tropical rainy season, brought general rejoicing and a brilliant tropical sun.

In Berlin, German officials said the key to their action in event the league should apply economic sanctions against Italy, probably rested in Austria or Switzerland. If either nation should continue to sell to Italy, they said, doubtless Germany, too, would do so.

GULFPORT CALLS ON OFFICERS TO KEEP PORT OPEN

shoremen's association at Gulfport, New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola have been ordered to strike October 1.

I. L. A. officials also announced that the ports would be boycotted as I. L. A. workers at other ports would be instructed not to load or unload ships using non-I. L. A. labor in the four cities.

Officials said Gulfport had been chosen as the "focal point" for "strike duty" because it is the only port where I. L. A. labor is employed exclusively.

The Gulfport Chamber of Commerce urged the I. L. A. unions to accept the contract submitted by shippers, saying it was "fair to labor."

The New Orleans Steamship association said the port business there would not be hindered as non-I. L. A. stevedores were employed.

Officials at Houston said longshoremen at Texas ports and Lake Charles, La., would decline to handle cargoes destined to or from the four ports.

Beginning Of Strike Is Set For October 1

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 26.—(AP)—M. J. Dwyer, union longshoremen's chief for the gulf coast area, announced today a strike will be called October 1 by his group at New Orleans, Mobile, Gulfport and Pensacola.

The strike and a boycott of all vessels handled at New Orleans by other than union labor, were announced as Dwyer and other members of the International Longshoremen's association sought a new labor contract.

Thomas Rice, head of the labor committee of Galveston and Houston workmen, said he had been informed by John P. Ryan of New York, I. L. A. president, that longshoremen at New York and other large Atlantic ports also would boycott New Orleans shipping handled by non-union labor.

other cities, and before noon officials had to call out police reserves in an attempt to handle the crowd and the virtually-stalled traffic in parts of the downtown section.

The situation was complicated by the fact that large numbers of the 150,000 persons who attended a midnight mass at the stadium were still outbound early today when the fresh thousands began to arrive.

Besides their desire to receive the pope's blessing, today's throngs were hoping to witness the impressive and beautiful formation of a "living monstrance," in which 20,000 persons form a human pattern of the receptacle in which reposes the Eucharistic host. The 20,000 will wear vestments or uniforms, the colors of which were arranged to represent a sun-burst monstrance.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

If you feel tired, run-down, nervous and out of sorts

—there is usually a definite reason for this

Now let's reason sensibly.

Don't try to get well in a day . . . this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

But there is a certain scientific way you can assist by starting those digestive juices in the stomach to flowing more freely and at the same time supply a balanced mineral deficiency the body needs.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired and run-down . . . a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve — by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic.

Much more could be said—a trial will thoroughly convince you that this way, in the absence of any organic trouble, will start you on the road of feeling like yourself again. © S.S.S. Co.

Farm Tenants Increase

Preliminary figures for the 1936 federal farm census are being issued from the department of commerce. These for the state of Oklahoma are complete. They show an increase in the total number of farms, a decided increase in the number of farms operated by full owners, a decrease in those operated by part owners and managers. There is an increase in farm tenants and a reduction of more than one-third in the number of share croppers.

Low yields were recorded for all crops in 1934 except for small grains harvested before the full effects of the drouth were felt. The yield of cotton was reduced almost 50 per cent from those five years previous. There was a decrease in the total acreage of land devoted to crops and an increase in the acreage in pasture, although those plowable were less than five years ago.

Livestock in January, 1935, showed a decrease in inventories, as compared with 1930, in horses, mules and hogs, but a substantial increase in both cattle and sheep even though the government purchases in drouth-stricken areas had been nearly completed when the inventory was taken. The reduction in hogs was due to the failure to produce feed grains.

The report shows trends in farm management in that full owners had in many instances returned to their farms from other employment, replacing many of the farm managers. The greatest change, however, was in the reduction of share croppers, due largely to the crop reduction programs which have been in force. The increase in the number of tenants indicates a general trend throughout the country creating a new problem in many instances and intensifying one already established in other areas.

This tendency is one that will receive much attention in the future. While it is possible to maintain the productivity of the soil, interest in community betterments, schools and churches under a tenant system, that which has been developed in the country has had the opposite effect. This problem is not confined to Oklahoma alone, but is growing in all states classified primarily as agricultural. If tenantry is to become permanent some means of eliminating its undesirable features must be devised.

Speed Driving From Expert

After a man has driven an automobile more than 300 miles an hour he is qualified to advise caution on the road. Sir Malcolm Campbell drove his car across a desert on an absolutely clear track, but he is no "speeder" in the too usual sense.

The weather has reached that perfection characteristic of late September, and families are "back in town" as a necessary concomitant to the reopening of schools. Also the demon driver, for a while absent at shore or mountains, who may think he, too, is a Malcolm Campbell in embryo or in esse—advanced from in posse. He has been tearing about rather freely while away, and now he is back he may think it a good idea to keep it up. Possibly Sir Malcolm is to him a glorious ideal.

Which is entirely sound as long as he marches with the speed king on the latter's preference for solitude while speeding.

Nationalist Irony

Some little time ago the Vienna police arrested a man for begging. Finding that he had come from Yugo-Slavia, they deported him to that country.

The Yugo-Slavs, however, decided that he was no citizen of their land, so they expelled him in the direction of Italy. The Italians wouldn't have him, and chased him out of Italy with fixed bayonets.

He had to spend three mortal days on a bridge between the two countries, unable to enter either. Then the Italians arrested him and sent him back to Austria.

The Austrians were about to expel him again when he got a chance to tell his story. A judge finally took mercy on him and now he is permitted to stay in Austria.

What a commentary on today's insane nationalism that story is! The incident could not have happened save in a world gone daffy with international fear and suspicion.

Life Placed First

The people of Bermuda seem to have a very intelligent way of looking at the automobile traffic problem.

Pleasure cars are banned on the island. There is, however, a law permitting the public works department to use trucks. And the other day one of these trucks struck a girl cyclist and killed her.

Now for the Bermudians' intelligence. They not only convicted the driver of manslaughter, but a coroner's jury immediately demanded that the law permitting the works department to use trucks be repealed.

The idea evidently is that while the auto truck is a very handy thing to use, it costs more than it is worth if the use results in the death of innocent bystanders.

How welcome such a common sense attitude is—in a country like the United States, where we kill 30,000 people a year with our automobiles and trucks and never dream of doing anything about it!

Italy Plays Lone Hand

Mussolini is not an easy man to budge but even Mussolini will find that the growing pressure of public opinion in practically all the nations will put him at a decided disadvantage if he insists on playing a lone hand.

As Secretary of State Hull has pointed out, a war such as Italy contemplates will not be waged alone on Ethiopia but will be an act of hostility toward the well-being and prosperity of all civilized peoples.

A Brooklyn pharmacist, after having his safe robbed five times, has decided to keep his money in the ice box. He's not the first one to have frozen assets.

That is, machinery will do everything in the next war except the walking on crutches.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

THE LAST HOPE OF THE PEDESTRIAN

Some jokesmith has announced his belief that in a few hundred years legs will become superfluous. Men already motorized, will equip themselves with roller skates driven by small engines, and in time their feet will atrophy for lack of use.

It will not come in our time. I hope it will not come at all. Already we have got a little too far ahead of ourselves.

I am glad this is still a mere jest. Whenever I hike down some shady road and see a car rush by at forty or fifty miles an hour, I think how much enjoyment those in it are missing. Rivers, brooks, stretches of open land and beautiful forests are just so many miles to the modern tourist.

Just now the migratory birds are stopping to rest on their southward way, but who can see them from a speeding machine? With his eye on the speedometer, and his joy on discovering that he is making sixty or seventy miles an hour, what does the motorist care about the surroundings through which he races?

If he goes a little too fast and piles up along side of the road, he will be so busy trying to get going again that he will have no thought for the squirrels that chatter at him, and take no heed of the brightly colored leaves that make the world glorious in the early fall.

Thanks to more sturdy construction machines are not as dangerous as they were in the early days of motoring. But even if one can tear along at a terrific pace, what is the sense in making a sight-seeing tour when the woods and fields are passed by so rapidly that their memory is only a blur?

I prefer a walk to a ride in a car, even if the car is loafing along at fifteen or twenty miles an hour. But why bother about taking the car along when the river or creek hard by reflect the leaf-flecked sunshine, and around every bend there is something new and beautiful to see?

Time was when the wooded country and the stretches of open land were dotted with groups of pedestrians.

Today, it is dangerous to walk along the road lest some speedster come tearing along and you have to step lively or take the consequences.

I am no foe of the automobile. I use my own a great deal. But I think it ought to be used in moderation, so that the joys of a walk in the autumn or late summer can always be made a part of a journey.

If you have never taken a walk at this time of year, leave the bus in the garage some time and wander around at your own sweet will. I am sure that if you do you will be glad I suggested it.

DO NOT SEEK

Do not seek to bring them back—
Things you would forget,
Do not let their bitterness,
With its gall and fret,

Come into your thoughts again.
Bring your will to bear
On obliterating this,
Memories of care,

Memories of bitterness,
Friends who failed, or were
Faithless to their friendship; when
Such sad dreamings stir,

Put them from you, turn away,
Seek new dreams and let
Old unhappiness be lost,
With its worry—fret.

BRANDED

The Laundryman—I'll see if I can find your shirts. What laundry marks were on them?

The Customer—Faded bosoms and frayed neckbands principally.

THEY MUST BE GOOD

Poet—The editors have returned every one of my poems.

Wife—Well, Jack, they must think your stuff is good if they'll go to all that trouble with it.

TAKING IT UP DIRECT

Dealer—That old woman brought more eggs to market today and I told her that ones she brought last week were bad.

Clerk—What did she say?

Dealer—Said next Saturday she would bring her hens and I could speak to them about it personally.

A SERIOUS OBSTACLE

Mrs. Pester—Oh dear; I haven't a thing to wear. I wish you could afford the money to buy me a new suit for this season.

Her Husband—It isn't the money, my dear. If you get a new suit I'll have to give up my hook in the closet for you to hang it on.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

The Head Barber—Say, Snips, you're wastin' your chatter on the guy in your chair. He's a deaf mute.

Chair No. 3—Fine! He won't interrupt me.

HIS SET SPEECH

Mr. Kickmore—I'm to speak at the annual dinner given by our firm.

His Wife—Oh, dear! I hope you won't find too much fault with it.

TEACHING THE TEACHER

The Teacher—You can see for yourself, madam, your daughter doesn't do that dance at all as I taught it to her.

The Fond Mother—Yes, I noticed it. Did you ever have a pupil who was so delightfully original?

KIWANIS HONORS PAST PRESIDENTS

Ceremony Held Complimentary To Former Heads Of Club

A program honoring the past presidents of the Monroe Kiwanis club was given at the regular meeting held Wednesday noon in Hotel Virginia. Immediate Past President H. Flood Madison, Jr., had charge of the proceedings which were featured by a candle-lighting ceremony. Fifteen candles, each representing a past president of the club, surmounted a beautiful cake that occupied the chief place at the luncheon table. The candles were lighted by the past presidents of the club who were present and by other Kiwanians representing those absent. Of the fifteen Kiwanians who served as chief officers of the club since its formation in 1921, two have died. These were Dr. Thomas W. Wright and Judge Percy Sandel. Others who have left the city are Rev. Frank Tripp and Jack Doughtie.

The complete roster of past presidents of the club, honored at the gathering, follows: Dr. Thomas W. Wright, Dr. C. P. Gray, Dr. J. E. Walsworth, Rev. Frank Tripp, Judge Percy Sandel, Clyde R. Brown, John Breard, F. C. Holden, J. E. Doughtie, Louis Hullum, Albert Marx, F. K. Hirsch, Fred Williamson, H. F. Madison, Jr. Louis Hullum has the distinction of serving several times in filling out the unexpired terms of presiding officers, as well as one full term. C. C. Colvert is the present president.

Brief addresses were made by Dr. Walsworth, Mr. Breard, Mr. Marx, Mr. Hullum and Mr. Colvert. A piano solo was given by Mrs. F. C. Holden.

Baptist Society Elects Officers For New Year

WINNFIELD, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church held an important business meeting at the church Monday afternoon, when officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. W. P. Martin president; Mrs. A. Leonard Allen and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, vice-presidents; Mrs. R. L. Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Fletcher Melton, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Fletcher, corresponding secretary.

The officers will be installed at a special meeting in October.

A special season of prayer for state missions is being observed this week, with a special missionary program each afternoon. The theme for the week is "All Thy Children Shall Be Taught of the Lord." The exercises will be concluded with a program Friday afternoon, when a special offering for state missions will be made.

Striking WPA Workers' Places Will Be Filled

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Charles F. Gelbke, district WPA director, said today the places of 317 WPA workers who have gone on strike in Jefferson parish will be filled by others.

The workers, employed on a farm-to-market road project struck for better working conditions and payment for the time it takes them to reach work on a barge.

Gelbke said the men had declined to continue work pending an investigation of their demands.

Educational Rally To Be Held At Winnfield

WINNFIELD, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—An education rally will be held at the First Baptist church here Friday, October 11, when Dr. C. Cottingham, president of Louisiana college at Pineville, and Rev. C. W. Caldwell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Arcadia, will speak in the interest of Christian education. A large attendance is expected.

Five Arcadia Scouts Are Advanced To Eagle Rank At Honor Court

ARCADIA, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Arcadia boy scout troop No. 110 held a court of honor Monday night in the American Legion hall, at which time three boys were advanced to the rank of eagle scout. They were: Bobby Hightower, Gerald Hightower and James Graham.

At a court of honor held two weeks ago, Herbert Cowser and James Graham were advanced to the rank of eagle scout. These two, together with the other three, bring the total for the troop for the year to five. This is a record for Norwela council and possibly for the state.

Besides the three boys given the rank of eagle scout the following were advanced to the rank of star scout: Hoyle Shields, Louie Rogers and Dan Edwards. Billy Conger was made a second class scout and Robert Murphy was made a first class scout.

The following received merit badges: H. D. Jones, painting and pathfinding; Allen Brown Rich, gardening; Glen Anders, Jr., first aid; Aylmer Nickelson, first aid to farm animals, pathfinding and wood carving; Lester Hood, carpentry and firemanship; Douglass McGuire, animal industry and forestry; Gerald Hightower, wood carving; Bobby Hightower, wood carving; James Graham, bird study, camping and cooking.

Troop No. 110 has made 345 advancements since registering in February, according to Rev. J. H. Bowden, scoutmaster. Plans were made at the court of honor to raise the number of advancements to 600 for the year. This will be an unusual record for any troop. Three more life scouts will become eagles before the end of the year, making the total of eight eagles for this one troop.

CHURCH SCHOOL PLANS ARE MADE

Methodists Will Conduct Training Courses Here In October

The Methodist churches in the surrounding towns are receiving information concerning the annual Standard Training school which will be held on October 20-25 at the First Methodist church, Monroe. Several meetings have been held by the pastors and educational leaders in order that the best selection of courses might be made. The board of managers has been organized with S. M. Collins as chairman and Miss Elizabeth Langford, educational director of the school.

The following courses have been selected: "Christian Education of Adults," to be taught by Mrs. Guy E. Brown of Houston, Tex.; "Senior-Young Peaple's Department Administration," to be taught by Mrs. L. C. Poindexter; "Missionary Education of Children," to be taught by Mrs. R. R. Branton of New Orleans; and "Church School Problems and Management," to be taught by Rev. O. W. Moerner, from the general department of the local church, Nashville, Tenn.

Persons more than 16 years of age will enroll for all courses. It is being urged that all superintendents, counselors, teachers, class officers, pastors and all interested prospective leaders enroll for the course representing their age group in the church school.

The first session will be held on Sunday afternoon, October 20, with registration at 2 p. m. and the first class at 3 p. m. Beginning Monday and continuing through Friday, the school will convene at 7:15 p. m. and close at 9:30 p. m. Registrations are anticipated from Bastrop, Columbia, Oak Ridge, Collinston, Mer Rouge, Rayville, Sterlington, Calhoun, Claiborne, Drew, Mangham, Little Creek and West Monroe, as well as Monroe.

Harry Sosnik Orchestra To Appear Here Friday

Harry Sosnik and his orchestra will play for a dance at Hotel Frances Friday night under the promotion of Ralph Bloom of Rayville.

Sosnik's rise in the music world was spectacular. He studied music, and all its complements, at the American conservatory of music in Chicago and made his first step toward fame when he introduced new songs over the radio, which was then in comparative infancy.

In a few months he was supervising music at a number of radio stations and then came an offer from the Columbia broadcasting system to take over the supervision of its musical division in Chicago.

At the same time he was also improvising arrangements for many prominent dance bands which were then in Chicago, and the success they achieved with his unique arrangements led to his decision to organize his own orchestra.

An audition, purely a formality, was held for his unit and Harry was installed at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago where he held sway for more than a year and broadcast his distinctive dance rhythms over both major networks.

Louisiana Stores, Inc. Gives Workers Barbecue

The annual barbecue for the officers and employes of Louisiana Stores, Inc., together with their families, was held Tuesday night at the farm of E. M. Steen, head of the firm, on the Prairie road. In all about 150 persons participated.

A bounteous repast was served consisting of barbecued lamb, veal, beef, cakes and pastries.

Similar barbecues have been held by Mr. Steen for his employes for the past three years.

IN NEW YORK

By George Ross

NEW YORK.—In sincerely mourning the mysterious death of the actress, Evelyn Hoey, Broadway has overlooked an eerie coincidence that dates back to years ago.

It was in 1926 when the Greenwich Village Follies, an intimate musical show, set out to tour the provinces and included in its company, two talented but unknown young women, a Libby Holman who had been engaged as a chorus girl but who was elevated to the comedienne's role, and an Evelyn Hoey, who was the soubrette of the show. The pretty troupers began a friendship in their travels.

Little did those girls know, then, at the first rungs of their careers, that the future was forging bullets into both their lives, bullets that led one into the courts and the other into death. A macabre parallel occurred in both tragedies. Heavy drinking was the forerunner of death at Winston-Salem and heavy drinking preluded the shot in the house of Henry Huddleston Rogers, 3rd, at Lyndell, Pa. Same doubts as to the circumstances arose in both cases. But the situations were reversed.

Fate, or whatever destiny is called, cast Libby Holman and Evelyn Hoey in the same show, led them into the same third act but wrote different endings for both.

Hungry—For Revenge

Although not included in their diet, movie stars will often bite the hand that feeds them. The paw of Fox Films was nibbled at the other evening when Francis Lederer, the Czech Adonis, was flown east to the Waldorf-Astoria for a preview showing of his latest picture, "The Gay Deceiver."

In the story, the foreign matinee idol portrays a pageboy in the Waldorf, and to keep him in character, some bright lads who handle Fox Films' press relations, dressed Mr. Lederer in a Waldorf bellboy uniform. Called upon to address a couple of hundred commentators of the cinema, Lederer opened his remarks by saying, as he pointed to his costume, "Of course, you all know that this is a silly idea of the Fox publicity department." And thus reddened the face of a ballyhoo genius.

Press Agentry

Myrna Loy not only raised havoc with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's reception committee in Manhattan when she stepped off the 20th Century from Hollywood, but almost hung the sequel to "The Thin Man" out on a limb in the bargain, by cancelling her contract. How could M-G-M have the press in for dry martinis and champagne cocktails on the house when the guest of honor insisted that she wouldn't even work for them? It was quite a problem and when last I heard of it, was being ironed out amicably.

Then, there was the difficult day the boys at the Paramount home office had on the day Jan Kiepura, a Hungarian star, arriving in New York City. Half way between quarantine and the West street pier, the self-impressed actor instructed the publicity men to despatch two stenographers to the boat on a cutter, in order to accurately record his statements to the press. That's what he asked for, anyway.

Warned Off

The Hollywood "extra" situation still remains acute. Signs posted by Central Casting bureau in all studios serve as a warning to those who would seek screen careers through this avenue.

Asking the question, "Do you understand figures?" the signs reveal that there are 5,393 women, 5,517 men, and 1,506 children "extras" registered with the bureau.

"This is more than 16 times as many as we can use each working day," the bureau admonishes.

But All Bite Alike

Stan Laurel has traded his land "yacht" for a sea-going affair. The comedian sold his elaborate automobile trailer and purchased a 45-foot cruiser. The yacht, once the property of a wealthy sportsman, came equipped with $5,000 worth of fishing tackle. Stan is planning a fishing expedition. With all that equipment he should catch something.

Murder!

The Yatch club boys were making a scene for "Thanks a Million." Electricians were climbing all over the set arranging lights. Kill that one. Kill the third spot to your left. Kill that sun-arc," the boss of the crew kept screaming. Patsy Kelly, sitting near us, was getting tired of the long wait. "Kill the Yacht club boys and let's go home," she called out.

Some dogs are better actors than some actors. "Corky," a trained movie mongrel of Irish and wire-haired mixture, chalked up a record of some kind with only three ruined scenes in 83 "takes."

All Over Again!

Hollywood's newest crooner is 6-year-old "Spanky" McFarland, hero of Our Gang comedies. "Spanky" is practicing several songs for a leading role in a forthcoming "kid" musical.

YOUTH CONFESSES GIVING POISON TO UNCLE AND AUNT

felt I had little hope of escaping a prison term and that the disgrace would cause the death of my aunt."

The youth, Condaffer said, declared he determined to kill the elderly woman and went to a drug store, where he purchased a deadly poison and several other chemicals, to avoid suspicion.

Poison Put In Coffee

The poison was slipped into the coffee as it brewed in the kitchen.

Earlier, the youth had told a fantastic, involved story about the double killing, in which he posed as the attempted destroyer of the bodies to prevent his elders appearing in a bad light before the community.

"I did what I thought was right," police quoted the one-time high school honor student. "They were respected church people, and I didn't think they would want the world to know what really happened. So I tried to make it appear an accident."

The bodies of the elderly couple were found last night by Drake's direction.

Under hours of questioning by officers, Drake held to his story that his aunt administered poison to Steinhuer in his coffee and then ended her own life last Thursday night. He also said he was the beneficiary in his uncle's will and of his life insurance policies.

Bodies Brought Up

He displayed little emotion as he watched from the deck of a fireboat while divers brought the bodies to the surface.

"Are those the two people you said you drove off the pier?" demanded a detective.

Drake replied, quietly:

"Yes, that's them. It's awful—it's awful."

The youth, who said he had lived with his aunt and uncle since he was three years old, identified the bodies. He said his parents reside in Washington, D. C.

Detective Lieutenant Frank Condaffer said the youth confessed to him he had forged the name of his uncle to a check since the man's disappearance.

In describing the alleged poisoning, Drake was quoted by Detective Condaffer as saying:

"My uncle took a sip of coffee. Quickly he put the cup down, and almost with the same motion slumped forward on the table.

"My aunt was shaking and trembling as though with palsy. She snatched her cup and gulped down the coffee. Instantly she, too, fell forward."

Drake said after he had witnessed the death of his uncle and aunt he visited a young woman in Long Beach, not knowing what to do next. Police were endeavoring to locate her for questioning.

Afterwards, Drake said, he came back to the Steinheur residence and early Saturday took the bodies to the harbor, Captain Wallis reported.

Police records showed Drake appeared in superior court yesterday and was placed on probation for three years for the theft of an automobile in Long Beach last August 23.

quoted as saying he had no comment to make.)

There was plenty of behind-the-scenes talk of Col. Frank Knox, and other possibilities for the nomination, but the very number of the names entering into speculation belied any concentrated movement.

Concerned With Finances

Fletcher told newspapermen that the committee had concerned itself with finances, routine matters of procedure, and canvassing reports of sentiment in various areas.

These reports, he said, left "no doubt at all that the tide has turned definitely and we are going to keep it turning." He spoke confidently of raising funds to conduct the election drive and announced he would soon appoint a finance committee to handle this vital job.

Asked if he planned a fund of $2,000,000, Fletcher smilingly replied: "That's piker money."

There was no doubt from Fletcher's responses to questions that the committee had devoted much attention to the western situation and to the plans of Harrison E. Spangler, Iowa's national committeeman, for winning the farm vote.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor—it's your price!

It's my own family's whiskey

—and I've been distilling 43 years

This picture just shows me, but I've got two sons I'll stack up with anybody in the whiskey business, only I don't like to brag about my own boys. It's really three sons, because my son-in-law, Tom, is up at the distillery, too—helping make the Wilken Family Whiskey the best ever.

I'd like you to taste what I think is the smoothest, mildest whiskey on the market—no matter what price you've been paying. You're in for a real treat!

TEXAS GOVERNOR, MEMPHIS POLICE CHIEF AT 'OUTS'

Officer Objects To Having Criminal Paroled To Him

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The governor of Texas and the chief of police at Memphis, Tenn., were at loggerheads today over whether a paroled Texas convict should live in Memphis.

Gov. James V. Allred recently paroled Carl Mack Thompson, serving ten years for robbery, to Chief Will D. Lee without the latter's knowledge. The governor said he had paroled many convicts on good behavior to police chiefs without protest.

Back came the proclamation with a letter from Chief Lee saying "we have our own criminals to deal with and do not take kindly to having them imported from other states into Tennessee." Lee said the governor was "unfair" and Thompson would be arrested as a vagrant if he showed up at headquarters.

In a 750-word reply, objecting to being lectured, Governor Allred explained that Thompson's mother, wife and child lived in Memphis, and he had expressed desire to return to them. Thompson's parole was recommended by the man who prosecuted him and the persons robbed, the governor said.

"This attitude on the part of a few police officers throughout the country is responsible for one of society's greatest problems, that of rehabilitation of convicted men," he said.

Governor Allred concluded that he had prevailed on the Salvation Army of Memphis to "undertake this responsibility" and had warned Thompson of Chief Lee's intentions if he went to police headquarters.

is no one's secret that Grandi is maneuvering to obtain a compromise."

The newspaper cited as Mussolini's dangers: Unemployment, the sending of troops into Eritrea, public opinion, the pope, Sforza, Grandi and Gen. Italo Balbo.

Somewhat similar reports of dissension in the Italian government were published in Parisian newspapers yesterday and immediately denied by authorized Italian sources.

claiming that farmers have been paying as low as 35 and 40 cents. Mitchell said today that one plantation near Trumann had raised its pay from 60 to 75 cents as a result of the strike threat there.

Meantime, one of the four persons detained at Blytheville, described by Attorney C. T. Carpenter of Marked Tree as J. A. West of Caruthersville, Mo., has been released. Carpenter said West was on his way to Marked Tree to visit a sick daughter and was offered a ride in the car of Lee Moskop, union member, who was distributing handbills for the strike. Carpenter said West was taken to jail along with Moskop and two other union workers when their car was stopped.

Textile Investigation Is Nearing Completion

McCOMB, Miss., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Adjutant General Thomas J. Grayson, sent by Governor Sennett Conner to investigate the textile trouble at the Magnolia cotton mills, was expected to complete his study today and return immediately to Jackson to report to the governor.

Quiet has prevailed at the mill since last Friday, when Mill Superintendent W. R. Smith was beaten by a group of strikers and allegedly shot Norman Crawford, mill worker. Smith is held in jail at Jackson pending the outcome of Crawford's wound.

Political Activities

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A new split in the once all-powerful political organization of the late Senator Huey P. Long loomed today.

With its solidarity already shattered by desertions, it was reported that Robert S. Maestri, conservation commissioner, was adding to the confusion by demanding that the city of New Orleans be held under the control Long established.

The impending quarrel developed as a result of the reawakening of the Old Regular political organization here which ruled elections for decades before it was crushed by the assassinated dictator.

The Old Regulars, sprucing up, have formulated a program of demands for repeal of acts taking away city political patronage and revenues. In return, they would support the administration candidates in the January, 1936, primary.

One of the acts for which repeal is sought gives the state administration complete control of the police department and it was over this demand, particularly, that Maestri was perturbed.

Judge Richard W. Leche, gubernatorial candidate on the ticket sponsored by Governor O. K. Allen, was reported willing to grant the concessions asked.

The new development still further muddied the political waters already in hurricane fury over the announcement of four gubernatorial candidacies.

The greatest cleavage in administration ranks came when Lieutenant-Governor James A. Noe bucked Governor Allen's wishes and announced his own candidacy independently.

There were likewise two anti-Long candidates in the field. One was Congressman Cleveland Dear and the other State Representative Mason Spencer.

The Old Regulars were scheduled to meet with Governor Allen, Judge Leche and Maestri late today to consider the political offer of the Regulars.

Operation Delayed By Objection

always a chance the operation might be successful. Peritonitis from the ruptured appendix was the big threat to the girl's life.

Dr. William H. McCormick, the family physician, who had found the door barred to him as to all other visitors, expressed fear that the girl would die unless an operation were performed.

Margaret was stricken suddenly last night and Dr. McCormick was summoned. The physician said he found her appendix had already burst and prescribed an emergency operation.

Dr. McCormick went to call an ambulance. When he returned he found Mrs. Kerston had hastily barricaded the doors and pulled the shades.

Surgeons Helpless

The ambulance, with two staff surgeons, and finally a squad of police arrived but Mrs. Kerston was adamant. Helpless, the group stood on the sidewalk and watched the lights in the house go out one by one save a single bulb in the sick girl's bedroom.

Police Chief Charles Gutowski said he knew of no ordinance which would give him the power to force entrance to the house. Hospital officials said they could not compel the girl to accept treatment.

Police learned that mother and daughter held a deep fear of hospitals and surgeons since the death of Mrs. Kerston's mother following an operation six years ago.

Margaret, officers said they learned, had been very fond of her grandmother and had always felt that she would have survived without the operation.

FISH SUFFER FROM HEAT

Following the extreme heat in Paris, thousands of fish appeared on the surface of the Seine, and people caught them by the handful. Half-suffocated by the lack of oxygen in the water the finny swimmers came up for "breath." Fearing the river's stock of fish might be depleted, the police forbad fishing by hand.

"3—We hereby ratify and approve the efforts of National Commander Belgrano, and the national legislative committee on behalf of the legions bill at the last session of congress."

Body To Choose New National Commander

CONVENTION HALL, ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A tired band of World war veterans, ranks thinned by pre-adjournment desertions, convened the final session of the American Legion's seventeenth annual convention here today to act on the bonus and choose a new national commander.

Only a handful of official delegates took their seats in the big auditorium for the opening formalities. With thousands of the visiting legionnaires already home-bound and others busy with their packing the public galleries were virtually deserted. A dreary rain pounding on the roof added to the dismal aspect of the scene.

However, because of a heated fight for national commander, and because delegates want to be heard on the bonus question, officials predicted the attendance would surpass that of yesterday by the time today's session gets well underway.

They said indications were at least two ballots would be necessary to choose a commander, a novelty for the legion which always has elected its national leader without controversy.

Opening music was by the Chicago board of trade post band, new national champions.

POSSE TO CLOSE IN ON CONVICTS

ed to take them today, "dead or alive." Warden Boswell said McCluskey wounded Dees.

The original trio—McCluskey, Jefferies and Elder—abducted William O'Brien, a guard, and forced him and 13 other convicts to accompany them into a swamp. O'Brien reported that McCluskey "got too close" to him while the 16 convicts were picking cotton and that Elder and Jefferies joined McCluskey in battling him. He was disarmed.

The guards and other convicts, all 13 of whom accompanied him back to prison, were released after the fleeing trio had gained the swamp and apparently thought they had "made good" their escape.

Hamp Draper, chief of the state convict department, was on an official visit to the prison farm near here when the break accurred and immediately took charge of the chase, ordering bloodhounds and machine guns sent here from Kilby prison at Montgomery.

McCluskey was serving a life term on a murder conviction from Lawrence county and was listed at the prison as a "dangerous prisoner." Jefferies was under a 35-year sentence from Morgan county.

The names of the thirteen men who returned to the prison stockade with the guard were not announced.

NUMEROUS FOREST FIRES REPORTED

Conflagrations Sweeping Hundreds Of Acres In North Louisiana

MINDEN, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—A warning to be particularly careful about forest fires was issued here today by officials of the soil conservation service. Already big fires are sweeping through hundreds of acres of forest lands in north Louisiana. All along the highways fires burning and smoke clouds are almost always in sight.

With very little rain during the past few weeks the forests burn like tinder and it is only a short time after the start of a blaze that it is sweeping many acres of valuable timber land.

Persons traveling and living in the country are urged to be very careful about cigarette stubs, matches and starting of brush fires. Boys enrolled in the ECW camps throughout Louisiana will fight fires when notified and do everything they can to keep them down. However, the safest and best way is simply not to let them get started, officials point out.

Places Of Most Teams In Both Leagues Definitely Settled

CUBS AND CARDS STILL ENGAGED IN HARD TUSSLE

Giants Can Do No Better Than Tie For Second Place

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

While the Cubs and Cardinals are engaged in their bitter struggle for the National league pennant, most of the other teams in both circuits have settled their differences about the standing and are now engaged in the search for players to help improve their positions next year.

In the National league, where the Cubs won their 19th straight by defeating the Cards 1 to 0 yesterday, the only real doubt is whether the Dodgers or Reds will finish in fifth place, although the Giants still have as much chance of tying St. Louis for second place as the Cards have of pulling up even with Chicago.

The first five places in the American league have been definitely settled and the one question is whether the Browns can overtake Washington's sixth-place Senators.

Brooklyn moved into fifth place yesterday by taking a double-header from the Giants, erstwhile pennant contenders, while the Cincinnati Reds were idle.

The Dodgers jumped on Rookie Harry Gumbert for eight runs in the second inning of the opener as they combined five hits with two errors, walks and other gifts, then breezed through to win 10 to 4 behind Watson Clark. They followed that up with a 1 to 0 victory when Van Mungo pitched four-hit ball to beat Fred Fitzsimmons.

As a result of their two defeats, the Giants can do no better than tie for second if they win their remaining five games from the Braves and the Cards lose four more to Chicago.

The Boston Red Sox clinched fourth place in the American league when they trounced the cellar-dwelling Athletics 7 to 2 on the Ferrell brothers' fine efforts while the Chicago White Sox, early-season sensations, took their third straight setback from the Browns 4 to 3. Wes Ferrell pitched five-hit ball for Boston to earn his 25th victory of the year while Brother Rick drove in four runs for him.

The Browns, who have played some of the best ball in the league in the past month or so, continued their drive to overhaul Washington by making five hits outdo ten by means of brilliant defense work.

Melvin Mazzera, latest addition to the Browns' newcomers, belted a home run and later singled to start the tying rally.

Detroit's champion Tigers, loafing along toward the world series, met some rather rude treatment from the third-place Cleveland Indians and went down 3 to 2. Elden Auker was forced out of action in the first inning when Joe Vosmik's liner struck his wrist.

His successor, Elon Hogsett, after smacking a home run to give Detroit the lead, failed to hold it and Hal Trosky batted Vosmik home with the odd run in the seventh.

The other clubs of both leagues remained idle.

PRICES FOR DIXIE SERIES ANNOUNCED

INDIANS IN FINAL STRENUOUS DRILL FOR AGGIE BATTLE

Northeast Center Squad In Excellent Shape For Opening Game

Yesterday was the last real day of hard work of Northeast Center of L. S. U. before the golden-jersied Redskins open their grid campaign Friday night on Brown field against Monticello A. & M. college. Coach Jim Malone said that after five weeks of training and a week of concentrated signal drilling, every player should know his duties on every play and today only light warming-up exercises and pass catching routines would be given the Braves.

The twenty-two players on the "A" and "B" elevens, each team having a chance of constituting the starting lineup for the opener, went through every play in their system without a flaw in the last lengthy workout before they clash with the Arkansas Aggies and both elevens seemed to be well drilled on the signals.

Aside from the Indians' hefty forward line of defense that will average over the two hundred pound mark, the real bright spot of the squad is four backs, Frankie Bono, "Ace" Guin, Frank Mosley, and "Boiy" Lemak, who performed together last season and are back intact to carry on where they left off with added possibilities of them turning in an even more creditable showing during this season's warfare.

Last season Frankie Bono played a wingback position, doing his share of the blocking, ball carrying and defense work, but for Friday night's game this stockily built back will be burdened with the signal calling job which was taken off Frank Mosley's shoulders to let him concentrate his attention on blocking and kicking. Mosley, a consistent and accurate punter during the 1934 season, has shown added improvement in this line and in practice has been getting off his boots with plenty of height and distance. For the practice session kicking he has been averaging more than fifty yards each time he has punted.

Northeast Center's other veterans of this quartet have come along in the same manner as Bono and Mosley and Coach Malone is expecting big things of Guin and Lemak. Guin is a flashy little 151 pound fullback while Lemak is more of the consistent type of ball player that can always be depended upon to play a stellar brand of ball.

The student body of Northeast Center has fallen in step with the football squad this year and yesterday at a pep meeting held in the college auditorium pledged their wholehearted support to the grid team. They will turn out in a body for the first game and plans were made to stage a mass meeting downtown Friday morning in connection with the Indian-Aggie tilt. Eugene Chapman, "Bumps" Gormely, Dot Lively, Polly Cole, Johnny Meyers and Virginia Buckner, Indian cheerleaders, will be in charge of the demonstration.

CLEVELAND NOSES OUT DETROIT IN FINAL OF SERIES

Trosky And Vosmik Lead Attack As Indians Win By 3-2 Score

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians won their final game of the season with the Detroit Tigers Wednesday, 3 to 2, after collecting ten hits off the hurlers of the championship team.

Hal Trosky

Hal Trosky of Cleveland made three hits batting right handed against Elon Hogsett, Detroit southpaw. Trosky's single scored Joe Vosmik with the winning run in the seventh inning. Vosmik, American league batting leader, also made three hits.

Hogsett, first man up in the sixth frame, hit a home run over the right field fence at League park. Hogsett replaced Auker in the box with the first inning after Vosmik's line drive struck Auker's left wrist. The injury was painful but physicians said they believed no bones had been broken.

Lloyd Brown, Cleveland pitcher, held Detroit to six hits.

Kelly Injured, Wins As Metheney Is Disqualified

Hank Rams Foe's Head Into Post And Kelly Goes To Hospital

Ernest Kelly won his match with Hank Metheney in the main event of the weekly wrestling show at Roosevelt stadium last night when Metheney was disqualified, but the victory was slight consolation, for he ended up in a local hospital with a two-inch gash in his head and three stitches were necessary to close the wound.

It was a wild ending to a match that produced lots of rough stuff from both parties. After each had won a fall, the third stanza soon turned into a slugging bee. In an attempt to break a hammer lock, Metheney rolled for the ropes and the two tumbled into the aisle. As they arose, Metheney advanced on Kelly with his fists doubled up and the two went at it then and there. With the customers crowding around, it was quite a fistic display, and neither seemed to pay any attention to Referee Bill Riley tolling off the count up in the ring.

Finally they both vaulted up to the ledge extending out from the ring and continued their slugging there. Finding an opening, Metheney gave Kelly a lusty right to the jaw and at the same time shoved him toward a corner post. Kelly fell backward and the top of his head came in violent contact with the post and he fell to the floor, "out."

Metheney then crawled back into the ring and apparently expected to have his hand raised in token of victory, but instead Referee Riley helped pull Kelly back inside the ropes and disqualified the Missouri ruffian.

A woman fainted during the excitement and it looked for a time that the customers, who crowded around the ring, would attempt to give Metheney some of the same sort of rough treatment he had been dealing out; but a couple of policemen quickly escorted the wrestler to his dressing room and averted further trouble.

Kelly was carried to his dressing room, where the wound was examined by Dr. C. P. Gray, Jr., who said that three stitches would be necessary to close the cut. The Tennesseean was later taken to the hospital where Dr. Gray attended him.

Metheney won the first fall by literally beating the Nashville boy into submission. Several rights to the chin, a few kicks to the stomach, three body slams and a full body cover turned the trick in 15 minutes.

Kelly, who spotted the Missourian 10 pounds, weighing in at 212 to Metheney's 222, came back strong and used his favorite hold, the hook scissors, to win the second fall in 10 minutes and thus even matters.

The third fall started with Metheney roughing the local favorite with his taped fist. Then Hank got a hammerlock that had Kelly in trouble. Ernest broke it with a leg breaker but two hammerlocks in quick succession quickly had Kelly on the defensive again. Finally Kelly managed to wrest his arm loose and it was then that he clamped on a hammerlock of his own that led to the wild climax as the two rolled from the ring.

Kelly was in an unusually playful mood, stomping Metheney's feet, slapping his face, roughing up Hank's bald dome and otherwise making merry at the Missourian's expense. Metheney employed his usual rough tactics throughout the match to even up matters.

In the semi-final, Dr. Karl Van Horn, the lanky St. Louis entry, defeated Firpo Wilcox, of Buffalo, N. Y., in straight falls. Van Horn substituted for Frenchie LaRue, who, according to an announcement, was suspended at Baton Rouge Tuesday night.

Van Horn won the first fall in 10 minutes with a hook scissors and took the second in six minutes with three head scissors. Wilcox was the villain of the piece, while Van Horn used only scientific tactics on his burly opponent.

Riley refereed both matches, Harry Prophit made the announcements and Phillip Lisotta kept time.

PIRATES WHIP REDS IN CLARKSDALE TILT

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Guy Bush, the Mississippi Mud Cat, returned to the Delta Wednesday night and aided the Pittsburgh Pirates in defeating the Cincinnati Reds 8 to 2, in an exhibition game before approximately 3,000 fans.

The Pirates scored their runs on nine hits, one a homer by Brown. Scarella, Red first baseman, also hit for the circuit. Both home runs were inside the park. A total of 33 players took part in the game. Bush was credited with the victory.

LIONS SEEK 2ND WIN OF SEASON AGAINST BEARS

Both Squads In Good Shape For Night Battle At Brown Field

The Ouachita parish high school Lions will seek their second consecutive victory of the current football campaign tonight when they tackle the Delhi Bears at Northeast Center stadium. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Delhi has furnished some keen competition for the Lions in past years and Coach Lefty Haynes expects a hard fought battle tonight. He has been working the Lion squad at full tilt this week in an effort to have his club in tip-top shape for their second encounter of the season.

The Lions closed their three days of work with a comparatively light session yesterday. Coach Haynes gave the squad a short talk and followed that with a short signal drill. He ended the session with a brushing up on pass defense.

Physically, the Lions are in good shape for the game. Rudy Vandenberg is in the hospital with blood poisoning and the center post will be held down tonight by Joe Butler. Rudy Painich has been on crutches this week as a result of a foot injury suffered in the Crossett game and will be lost to the squad for another week or so. Otherwise, the squad is in good condition.

With the exception of the center position, the team will line up at the starting whistle with the same players who started the Crossett game last week. Earl Cobb and John Renwick will be at the terminals, F. C. Eason and Billy Trimble at tackles. Wheeler Mitchell and Moise Peters at guards and Joe Butler at center. The backfield will consist of Harvey Gregg, quarterback; Eddie Bowles and Charlie Meyers at the halves and Bob Staples at fullback.

Coach Haynes announced that officials tonight will be Binion (Centenary), referee; Hawthorne (Louisiana Tech), umpire, and Phillips (Louisiana college), head linesman.

The lineups:

Delhi	Pos.	Ouachita
Tamburo	LE	Cobb
Gilliland	LT	Eason
Morris	LG	Mitchell
Crawford	C	Butler
Leggett	RG	Peters
Johnson	RT	Trimble
Moore	RE	Renwick
Wood	QB	Gregg
Copes	HB	Bowles
Bryan	HB	Meyers
K. Ingram	FB	Staples

DELHI STARS MISSING

DELHI, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—The Delhi Bears that meet the O. P. H. S. Lions at 8 p.m. Thursday night will be minus the services of many stars, and the coachers have been working every day attempting to fill the gaps made by graduation.

The line, with exception of Charlie Tamburo, will be young, as such stars as Jackson and Mitcham at tackles must be replaced, the two best guards in B circles graduated in Coleman and Crews, then Simms, a veteran end, must be replaced. Copes, last year's center, has been shifted to a backfield position.

How the backfield without the services of "Jim" Bruce, and the powerful "Pat" Ingram will look is yet to be seen, but with K. Ingram and J. Wood back, much should be heard from this combination as they are both triple-threat backs and Bryan, another triple-threat back, and the powerful Slim Copes, a blocking back, should make a nice ballotting quartet.

The line will present such men as Crawford and Moore and DeMoss at center, Morris, Leggett, Kelly and Rundell at guards, Gilliland, Johnson, Coleman and Kelly will attempt the tackle vacancies, and Tamburo, A. Moore, Armstrong and Russell will be found at ends.

The backfield will have such reserve strength as Rials and Cernilgia will be able to give.

CRACKERS COME FROM BEHIND TO WHIP PELS, 7-3

Atlanta Wins Second Straight To Take Big Lead In Series

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Atlanta took a commanding lead in the final series of the Southern association playoff by defeating New Orleans here Wednesday night, 7 to 3. The Crackers won Tuesday night and now need only one more victory in three remaining games to clinch the title.

The teams move on to New Orleans where they will resume the series Friday. A third victory would send Atlanta into the Dixie series against Oklahoma City, Texas league champion. A total of 8,043 saw Wednesday night's game.

Trailing by two runs, the Crackers rallied to score five times on six hits in the fifth inning and drive young Al Milnar, ace hurler of the Pelicans, to the showers. The Louisianians pounded Harry Kelley, veteran Atlanta righthander, from the mound in the third inning, batting around to score their three runs before big Jim Lindsey went to the rescue and blanked them the rest of the way.

Atlanta opened the scoring in the first inning after two were out. Alec Hooks singled and raced home on Joe Hutcheson's double down the first base line. Manager Larry Gilbert protested the play for several minutes, arguing that Hooks should have been held at third by ground rules, but he was overruled.

Kelley was erratic from the start and finally was knocked out in the third. Harley Boss singled and Morgan walked. Jim Gleeson doubled to score Boss and Morgan counted on Eddie Rose's long fly. Chick Autry struck out, but Connolly singled to score Gleeson. Lee was hit by a pitched ball, and with three straight balls to Milnar, Lindsey replaced Kelley. Milnar walked and then Cliff Weatherly flied out to end the rally.

Opening Atlanta's scoring spree in the fifth, Lindsey singled and Peck Hamel doubled. Johnny Hill lined out, but Hooks followed with a single that scored Lindsey and Hamel. Joe Hutcheson singled and Dave Harris lashed out a double to send Hooks home. Jim Davis replaced Milnar and was greeted with a single by Gerald Lipscomb, scoring Hutcheson and Harris. Buster Chatham forced Lipscomb and Lindsey struck out on his second trip to the plate.

The Crackers' final score came in the seventh inning, with Harris stealing home. The left fielder had singled and Lipscomb bunted toward third. Connolly came in fast and threw the runner out at first, but Harris dashed to third, beating Boss' throw to Autry. The Pelican catcher then walked toward the pitchers' box, tossed the ball to Davis and Harris sprinted across the unguarded home plate.

BASTROP TO PLAY CROSSETT FRIDAY

BASTROP, Sept. 26.—(Special)—Encouraged by their win last week over Farmerville in their first encounter of the season, the Bastrop high school Rams seek their second victory when they meet the Crossett high school eleven here Friday afternoon. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Despite the fact that Crossett suffered a defeat last week at the hands of the Neville high school team, the Arkansas team is said to be stronger than Farmerville and is expected to make it tough for the Rams Friday afternoon.

With the exception of minor injuries to Braddock, halfback, Doughty, halfback, and McCormick, tackle, the Rams came out of their game last week in good shape. The team didn't waste any time Monday in resuming work in preparation for their next opponent. Scrimmage practice was held all this week. Weakness which cropped up in the defensive and offensive last week were given particular attention in the workouts this week.

NEVILLE TO PLAY MINDEN SATURDAY

Changes Made In Lineup As Tigers Prep For First Home Game

The Tigers of Neville high school will face a team outweighing them an average of 20 pounds to the man next Saturday night when they play the Green Wave of Minden at Brown stadium.

As Coach Percy Brown drills the Tigers this week in preparation for the game, which will be their first home game and their first contest with a Louisiana eleven this season, he is working on a No. 1 team having several changes in the lineup made since the Tigers lost their opening game of the season to the Camden, Ark., high school, 10 to 0, last Friday night at Camden.

Henry Biedenharn having left the team and causing a vacancy at the right tackle position, Coach Brown has shifted Ed Tonore from right end to the position. Joe Gimler, who had been groomed for the backfield, was placed at right end.

If the two players do not perform satisfactorily in their new positions, R. C. White will be placed at tackle and Tonore will be shifted back to end.

Coach Brown possibly may make another change in rounding out a No. 1 eleven with its weight distributed so that it can work to best advantage against the superior weight of the Minden team.

Spectacular Catch By Galan Spikes Lone Cardinal Threat

By Paul R. Mickelson
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Gas House gang of St. Louis was gassed Wednesday.

Withering fumes from the unerring smokeball of Lonnie Warneke, and one terrific explosion off the bat of 19-year-old Phil Cavaretta left the world's champion Cardinals hanging all but lifeless on the ropes Wednesday as the rampaging Chicago Cubs blanked them, 1 to 0, for their 19th straight victory, a brilliant conquest that put them within one more triumph of the National league pennant.

Lon Warneke

The victory, scored in one of most superb duels since Abner Doubleday first introduced baseball, mutually clinched the flag for the sational men of Grimm. They now "dormie" on the staggered champions, four games ahead and four to go.

Furthermore, they beat the great Paul Dean, the fresh freshman of the weary Cardinal pitching staff, who battled them all the way with seven strikeouts and seven hit ball, only to be tumbled into defeat.

It was Cavaretta who provided the one big blow, that won the spectacular game—a contest featured not only by magnificent pitching, but beautiful catches and errorless ball on both sides—but it was the poker face from the land of the Orazks, who asphyxiated the Gas House gang.

Warneke allowed only two hits—a single by Lynn Kink, young Texas league rookie from Houston, in the fourth inning, and a fluke double by Jim Collins in the eighth that gave him his only anxious moment of the afternoon.

Only one batter reached third, and only 28 batsmen faced him.

Cavaretta's home run smash came in the second inning just as young Dean was flashing some of the finest pitching of his brilliant, tireless career with the Cardinals. Paul had struck out four batsmen and allowed only one hit, a harmless double by Fred Lindstrom, up to the moment that Cavaretta strode to the plate with one out.

Dean, pitching almost nothing but strikes, blazed a curve inside and

FOUR S'EASTERN ELEVENS PICKED FOR TITLE RACE

Alabama, Louisiana State, Tennessee And Tulane Are Named

ATLANTA, Sept. 26. — (AP) — The safest prediction, it seems, is to nominate Alabama, Louisiana State, Tennessee and Tulane for the Southeastern conference football championships and let the chips fall where they may.

Observers unanimously agree that these elevens will constitute the "big four" of the season, with Georgia, Vanderbilt and Kentucky delegated to what might be termed a "second flight."

To single out one of the "big four" as the best bet for the title would be dangerous. They have, without doubt, the most promising material of any of the other nine members of the league.

Then there is the chance that one of the trio forming the "second flight" might step in to spoil the hopes of any one of the favored quartet.

The 1935 schedule offers an interesting study among these top seven clubs for games among themselves. Each team plays at least three of the ranking elevens.

Here is the lineup:

Alabama—Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Tennessee — Alabama, Vanderbilt and Kentucky.

Tulane — Georgia, Kentucky and Louisiana State.

Louisiana State—Vanderbilt, Tulane, and Georgia.

Georgia—Alabama, Tulane and Louisiana State.

Vanderbilt—Louisiana State, Tennessee, Alabama.

Kentucky—Alabama, Tulane and Tennessee.

Incidentally, it must be noted that the so-called "second flight" teams face three of the "big four" elevens, forcing the conclusion that it will be mighty difficult for them to survive such a strenuous schedule.

Alabama, co-champion in 1934 with Tulane, and conqueror of Stanford in the Rose Bowl last New Year's day, plays four of the top-flighters, but only Tennessee of the "big four." Also, Tulane engages only Louisiana State in the top rung, in addition to Georgia and Kentucky.

On the whole, the program furnishes a mixture of games that will thoroughly test the power of all the clubs. It is extremely possible that no team can pull through without defeat.

The first big battle of the "giants" comes on October 19, with Alabama and Tennessee clashing at Knoxville, Tenn. The Crimson Tide lost heavily of its Rose Bowl veterans, but excellent reserves and some potent carry-over material form the foundation for another good team. Tennessee has the heftiest line in history, but lacks punch in backfield.

One week later follows a couple of the "big" games, with Alabama continuing the grind against Georgia and Louisiana State clashing with Vanderbilt.

Louisiana State, with a wealth of experienced players and many reserves, looms as a prime threat in the race, despite its strenuous early campaign against four outside teams. The Tigers open against Rice and play in order thereafter Texas, Manhattan and Arkansas, before engaging Vanderbilt at Nashville on October 26.

CAVARETTA HITS HOMER FOR ONLY CHICAGO TALLY

waist high to the young Italian on the first pitch. Cavaretta swung and there wasn't any doubt about the blow. The ball whistled on almost a straight line over the right field pavilion and over the protective screen for a home run. The smash didn't appear so harmless at the instant, but with Warneke gassing batter after batter, it was the blow that staggered the enemy into defeat.

Augie Galan, mighty little outfielding hero of the Cub forces, gave Warneke his only disturbing moment of the game in the eighth, but immediately saved the day with a superb catch. With one out, Collins smashed a low ball to left center. Galan, playing too far back for the home run hitter, raced in and attempted a shoe string catch but missed, the labeled single rolling almost to the wall for a double.

Collins raced to third as Billy Herman snared a bad hopper and threw Bill Delancey out at first. That was the spot where Augie came through. Leo Durocher picked one of Warneke's high ones and smashed it toward the left center wall.

Augie first underestimated the blow and then ran backwards and sideways fully 50 feet and made the catch right against the green brick wall. No one thought he had the ball, but he clung to it as the 19,989 fans gave him a tumult of ovation.

The Cardinals didn't have a chance after that, going down one-two-three with Virgil Davis batting for Dean and providing the second out.

Chicago's next best chance to score also came in the eighth as Warneke singled off Durocher's glove and galloped to third on Hermans 56th double of the year, a vicious smash that skimmed down the third base line. But Lindstrom ended the threat, started with two out, by rolling weakly to Gelbert.

Jubilant and cocksure now, Manager Charlie Grimm announced he would send "General" Bill Lee out to the mound to clinch the pennant with a victory Thursday. But Chicago still has Dizzy Dean to beat. Dizzy will fire them for the Cards.

JOHN M'ALLISTER PUT UNDER ARREST HERE

John McAllister yesterday afternoon had been arrested by the sheriff's department and placed in jail under charges of disturbing the peace, assault with a dangerous weapon, a rifle, and carrying a concealed weapon, a pistol. The charges were preferred by Dan Sanderford, operator of a saloon on the Winnsboro road near the city limits.

The arrested man was also placed under a peace bond, $750 being fixed as the amount required for his release from jail under the bond. His bond for the three charges against him was also set at $750.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Theft of her daughter's bicycle late Tuesday from the campus of the Neville high school was reported to police yesterday by Mrs. S. R. Moore, 501 Speed street.

Louis To Take World Tour After Fight In November

Jacobs Hopes To Sign Schmeling For Bout With Negro In 1936

By Edward J. Neil
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Chocolate soldier, a one-man army named Joseph (Barrow) Louis, is heading for the fighting fields of South America and Europe, to show folks abroad, as he showed Max Baer and 90,000 in the Yankee stadium, just how much devastation can be packed in the fists of one super warrior.

MILLION MARK PASSED

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Audit figures of receipts and attendance for the Joe Louis-Max Baer heavyweight fight in the Yankee stadium showed Wednesday that including motion picture and radio rights the match grossed exactly $1,000,832.17. Including complimentaries, ushers and police the attendance exceeded 90,000.

Louis' share at 30 per cent of the net receipts amounted to $217,337.93 while Baer, listed as receiving 25 per cent, was paid $181,114.99.

The battling bridegroom, who married his sweetheart, Marva Trotter, three hours before he knocked out Baer in four rounds Tuesday night, wants to travel, wants a pleasant honeymoon, but also wants to fight every two weeks as long as he's in the business of fisticuffs.

So Mike Jacobs, his personal promoter, worked out a solution of most of these problems Wednesday as Max Baer, licking his grievous wounds, in a hotel suite, insisted that he couldn't have gotten up once more Tuesday night, and vowed that he didn't know why he failed to carry a slugging fight to the Detroit negro as he had promised Jack Dempsey and all the rest of his friends.

Finishing the count on a total gate that did exceed $1,000,000 after all, including the radio and motion pictures, Mike announced that following a late November charity match at the New York Coliseum, an indoor arena seating 20,000, against Walter Neusel or Ray Impellitiere, he will take Louis on a swing through the foreign capitals. Neusel, German heavy, will get the match if he beats Primo Carnera in Madison Square Garden, November 1.

"We'll leave early in December," Mike said, "and I want real fights for Louis in Havana, Buenos Aires, Rio De Janeiro and anywhere else they want him in Latin America. Then we hope to swing through Europe, fighting in London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, Madrid, Hamburg, anywhere at all. Louis wants no exhibitions. He'll fight ten and fifteen rounds, whatever the foreign promoters prefer.

"Over in Germany I plan to sign up Max Schmeling to fight Joe in New York next June. Then we'll try to get Louis and Braddock together for a heavyweight championship match in September."

The only possible hitch in this program is that the Garden has Braddock under exclusive contract for his next title fight and already has negotiated with Schmeling to meet the champion next June. It is not unlikely, however, that Jacobs and the Garden will get together on next year's fistic schedule.

As far as handling Louis is concerned, Jacobs, only promoter other than Tex Rickard, his old boss, to break into the million dollar circle, can write his own ticket. He has an exclusive contract on the negro's services for another year and a half, but Louis' managers insisted Wednesday that he draw up a new agreement for life, if he wished. Jacobs said an extension to Jan. 1, 1940, would do.

Acclaim of the 21-year-old frozen face who plans to leave Thursday with his bride for Chicago where they will make their home, rang throughout the fight world, though there was considerable annoyance expressed among Baer supporters because the Great Maxie failed to go down swinging for them, as he had promised.

The newsmen bearded Max in his den at his hotel, demanding "cold turkey" answers to their questions. They found Baer in good spirits, both eyes slightly blackened, a cut showing on his chin, a slight headache reminding him of the three knockdowns he suffered as Louis slashed him mercilessly almost without return for slightly less than 12 minutes.

"Why didn't you come out tearing at the first bell, swinging everything you had, as you swore in training camp you'd do, as you promised Jack Dempsey faithfully in your corner?" Max fumbled for the answer.

"I couldn't do it," he said finally. "I couldn't get started."

Point blank they asked him if he could have gotten up again when he knelt on one knee on the floor ten seconds before the end of the fourth round as Referee Arthur Donovan tolled the final ten. Baer hesitated again.

"I could hear the count all right," he said, "but my legs were numb. There were so many Joe Louises in front of me it looked like all Harlem had jumped into the ring."

He tried his only attempt at his old bravado.

"There were so many dark clouds," he said, "that this little ray of sunshine just couldn't get through."

While Baer is as definitely retired from the ring as Louis' conquests are just beginning, he said, he has some venom left in his system. He'd like a chance to tell the New York boxing commission, always a thorn in his side, just what he thinks of it; also a lot of newspapermen. Some of the newspapermen eyed him with different eyes as he suggested that Wednesday.

"Careful, big fellow," one of them muttered, ready to roll up his sleeves. "You proved last night you can be had."

"Anyway," said Baer, "I'm glad it's over. I guess I wasn't cut out to be a fighter. I guess I'm just a sissy. I'm going back to California and raise cattle."

PLANS TO BE MADE FOR DIXIE SERIES

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A meeting of Texas league and Southern association baseball executives will be held Friday in New Orleans to determine dates and sites for the annual Dixie series between pennant winners of the two circuits.

President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league, Milton, Price, league secretary, and Vice President Jimmy Humphries of the Oklahoma City Indians will leave Thursday for New Orleans where they will meet President John D. Martin, of the Southern association, and representatives of New Orleans and Atlanta, the two teams now engaged in a play-off for the Southern flag.

Oklahoma City recently beat Beaumont to win the Texas league bunting.

Gardner said today that two veterans, Lee Ballanfant and Eddie Palmer, had been named as Texas league umpires for the Dixie series.

Real Estate Transfers

H. M. McGuire sold to Mrs. Irene Nugent, yesterday, lot 8 of block 3 of H. M. McGuire's Highland park in sections 38 and 39, township 18 north, range 3 east, for a consideration of $310.

DODGERS WIN TWO

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Dodgers moved back into fifth place in the National league Wednesday by taking both games of a doubleheader from the Giants, 10 to 4 and 1 to 0. The two victories put them a game ahead of the idle Cincinnati Reds.

Eight runs off Harry Bumbert in the second inning on only five hits gave Brooklyn the opener. Two Giant errors, two walks, a passed ball and a double steal figured in the big rally.

Van Mungo outlasted Fred Fitzsimmons in the closing mound duel to win in the ninth. He gave only four hits and fanned six for his 15th victory. Sam Leslie opened the winning rally with a single and Sherlock, who ran for him, scored on Joe Stripp's bunt and Ralph Boyle's double.

The Giants won the season's series, 13-9.

SHARKEY MAY TAKE SHOT AT JOE LOUIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—It is just possible that Jack Sharkey former heavyweight champion from Boston, may come out of retirement to take a shot at the new sensation of the ring, Joe Louis.

"I'd like to make that match, said Mike Jacobs, promoter who had Louis under exclusive contract, Wednesday. "Sharkey's manager, Johnny Buckley, was in yesterday but I was too busy with details of the Louis-Baer fight to talk much to him.

"It would draw a tremendous gate, and I'd like to put it on, maybe in the spring either here or in Boston. I understand Sharkey right now is within a couple of pounds of fighting weight."

Sharkey retired after losing the heavyweight title to Primo Carnera on a knockout, and dropping decisions to King Levinsky and Tommy Loughran in 1933. He said at the Baer-Louis fight last night that he'd like to take a chance at Louis, if there was enough money involved.

EX-TULANE CENTER WEDS ORLEANS GIRL

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Homer Robinson, of Lake Charles, La., former all-American football center at Tulane university, and Miss Christine Sarah Fontenot, of New Orleans, were married here Wednesday night.

Robinson graduated from Tulane last year. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus W. Fontenot, attended school in San Antonio, Texas. Her father is acting collector of internal revenue at New Orleans.

The bride's sister, Miss Dorothy Fontenot, was maid of honor, and the groom's brother, Dr. S. B. Robinson, of Lake Charles, La., was best man.

The couple will make their home here after an automobile trip through Florida.

VANDERBILT LINEUP REMAINS UNCHANGED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 26.—(AP)—With possibly one or two exceptions, the same Vanderbilt lineup that made an unimpressive opening against Union last week will take the field Saturday against Mississippi State in the first Southeastern conference game of the season.

One probable change is the replacement at end of Carl Earl with Dick Plasman, elongated flankman and excellent pass receiver.

The backfield will be the same with Dixon, Smith, Oliver and the pile-driving Agee starting, with Jimmy Huggins and Carson, slippery runners, sure to see lots of service.

Head Coach Ray Morrison, attending his father's funeral at McKenzie, Tenn., missed Wednesday's practice but will return Thursday to prime his men for Major Ralph Sasse's Maroons.

NOBODY CAN BEAT JOE LOUIS, SAYS DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, who seconded his "pal," Max Baer, thinks there is no heavyweight in sight with a chance to beat Joe Louis.

"Louis is good, there's no doubt about that, said the former world champion Wednesday. "It will take a really great fighter to beat him and there's no one around now capable of turning the trick."

Keenly disappointed by his protege's showing, Dempsey declared that "Baer is all washed up."

"I told him he ought to quit," added the Old Mauler. "He simply hasn't got it any more.

"I sent Baer out there to fight, not box, but he wouldn't open up, except in one or two brief spurts. Between rounds I urged him to keep slugging. He didn't do it and he couldn't explain why he wasn't following instructions.

"At the finish he was knocked absolutely senseless. He didnt know where he was when we dragged him back to the corner."

Asked what he thought his own chances against Louis would have been in his prime, Dempsey grinned and replied:

"Well, I'd kept punching with him, doing the best I could."

The former champion left the impression he thought he might have had quite a pleasant punching party with the Brown Bomber. His parting shot, however, was:

"I'm glad I'm in the restaurant business now."

COTTON FORMS TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Objective To Aid Farmers To Get 12 Cents Per Pound For Staple

Forms to be used by cotton producers in connection with the cotton price adjustment payment plan are expected to be available during the first half of October at the office of E. R. Strahan, Ouachita parish agricultural agent.

The objective of the cotton price adjustment payment plan is to assure producers, as far as possible, a return of 12 cents per pound on the basis of seven-eighths of an inch middling, for their 1935 cotton crop sold prior to August 1, 1936.

Producers taking advantage of the plan will make application for payments on a prescribed form which will be approved by the parish cotton control committee.

In event two or more persons have made an agreement for the production and marketing of their cotton, the producer who made the Bankhead application will make the application for the adjusted payment and will be responsible for dividing this payment among the beneficiaries in accordance with the trade agreement.

The adjustment payment per pound to each producer will be the amount per pound by which the official average base price on the 10 designated spot cotton markets is below 12 cents per pound on the date of sale of the cotton, but in no event shall the payment per pound exceed two cents, it was stated.

OAKLAND IS ILL

2 WOMEN SLIGHTLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH YESTERDAY

Mrs. John Freeman, of 2710 Lee avenue, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. L. Cooksey, of Pennsville, N. J., suffered minor injuries late yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was in a collision with another car at the intersection of Oak and South Sixth streets. Both women suffered bruises and Mrs. Cooksey received a cut behind her ear. They received treatment at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic.

Albert C. Daniel, of Pennsville, was the driver of the car in which the women were riding and Charlie Robinson, negro, residing on the Winnsboro road, was the driver of the other car. Reports of the drivers filed at police headquarters said Daniel was driving east on Oak street and Robinson was driving south on Sixth street at the time of the accident. No charges were preferred.

Mrs. Cooksey's husband is making his first visit to his sister here in 17 years.

Choudrant Farmers To Hear Crop Discussion

CHOUDRANT, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Farmers of this section will meet at the Choudrant High school Thursday night, at which time the possibility of yellow Bermuda onions as a minor cash crop will be discussed by C. L. Mondart, agriculture teacher of the high school, and J. O. Tacket, agricultural agent of the Illinois Central railroad.

This will be the first of a series of farmer meetings planned here, to be held for the purpose of discussing various cash crops.

Q-23

The cannibal warrior, making the rounds of his snares, was of the tribe of Galla Galla, who had sworn vengeance on Tarzan because the ape-man had punished him for a raid on a peaceful tribe. And it was into Galla Galla's dismal country that Dick and Doc had wandered! . . .

. . . Cautiously the boys climbed down from their high perch, fearful that the lion which had charged them the day before might still be lingering in the vicinity. Once more they set out and soon came to the game trail which they believed would lead them to the railway.

They were certain that their train had left them, but there would be other trains. Though they were traveling in the wrong direction, Doc was so positive they were on the right road that his spirits rose high, and the optimistic lad broke into a gay whistle.

Ahead of them Zopinga, the cannibal warrior, came to an abrupt halt. For an instant he stood listening intently, then he dropped to his hands and knees and placed his ear against the ground. Soon he arose, tense and alert, seeking to interpret the approaching sounds.

Q-23

Just before Dick and Doc came into sight, the cannibal warrior stepped into the green wall of the jungle trail. The leaves and branches dropped back, forming an impenetrable screen, behind which Zopinga waited, while the Tarzan Twins confidently pursued their course.

Now Zopinga adjusted his shield and took a new grip on his light hunting spear. The warrior did not see the boys until they were almost opposite him, but when he did the grip of his spear hand relaxed and a look of satisfaction overspread his evil countenance.

Seeing that he had nothing to fear from two unarmed white boys, he waited until a turn in the trail took them from his view, then he stepped out and followed them. Zopinga was greatly elated. What matter now that his snares had failed to entrap a single victim?

Had all his traps been filled, the reward would not have equaled this windfall which had come without effort on his part. The victims of his snares he would have had to carry home; but this new quarry walked on their own legs, most accommodatingly, toward his home village!

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The cotton market was holding from 3 to 4 points lower today as hedge selling increased and scattered liquidation appeared in active options.

Professionals disregarded the bullish ...pensities of an unfavorable Texas weather report and few purchases were made on the heavy showers being experienced in that state.

October lost its early gain and dropped three points below the previous closing level to 10.45, while December at 10.48 and May at 10.65 were also off a few points.

Foreign buying, which had absorbed hedge offerings in recent sessions, was absent today and with the market lacking this supporting influence prices sagged.

The most important weather development was continued heavy rains in Texas. While the crop is made, or nearly made in the southern part of the state, in the central and northern areas rains at this time are considered detrimental.

Prices continued to range slightly under the previous closing levels, and the market ended the day steady 6 to 8 points lower. Exports today were 2,018 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady at net declines of 6 to 8 points.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—After sagging during most of today's session, the stock market rallied quietly in the final hour and earlier losses of a point or so were shaded or cancelled.

The dullness of the decline induced some short covering and reinvestment buying. A number of issues, however, were still under water at the finish. The close was slightly irregular. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

By Victor Eubank
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—While there were scattered firm spots in today's stock market, a number of the leaders stepped back into the rear price ranks.

Retreating tendencies were attributed mainly to technical factors. Domestic happening were more encouraging than otherwise and the European outlook was no more disconcerting than it has been for the past several days. Trading verged on dullness during the greater part of the session.

Definite trends in grains, cotton and several other commodities were lacking. Foreign exchanges, for the most part, were quiet although the guilder again pointed lower. Bonds were irregular in a fractional range.

Among shares that improved moderately in the face of sagging movements elsewhere in the list were American Telephone, Western Union, United States Gypsum, American Woolen Preferred and Du Pont. A loss of 2 points was registered by American Can and Case, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Howe Sound, Allied Chemical and Union Pacific yielded a point or so each. Consolidated Gas, Chrysler, General Motors, New York Central, Santa Fe and General Electric were about unchanged to slightly in arrears.

Authorization by a New York federal court of an additional grand jury to investigate the alleged manipulation of stock of the Associated Gas & Electric company did not seem to particularly disturb the utilities.

Increasing resistance to the advance, especially in the recently fast-climbing in... ...ad been expected by ... analysts and a secondary ... held within reasonable ...unds, was not especially unwelcome to those who have their eyes on the long-term trend.

Although speculative forces were not disposed to get excited over the war situa... ...n aboard, pending ...ore reassuring developments commentators generally were forecasting intervals of irregularity in the equities division.

The flow of gold to the United States from aboard was being watched closely and not too optimistically by banking quarters. In addition to the contracting reserves of Holland, it was noted that the weekly statement of the Bank of France disclosed a decrease of gold holdings amounting to 117,000,000 francs.

Cheerful items were present in statistical news. Bituminous coal produced in the week ended September 21, totalled 7,620,000 net tons as against 6,864,000 tons in the like 1934 week. August shipments of fabricated steel were at 49.1 per cent of normal compared with an average of 38.4 per cent for the first eight months of 1935. The New York Central estimated gross September earnings at $26,000,000 against $23,240,000 in the same month last year.

THOMAS W. CORRY FUNERAL FRIDAY

Services Will Be Conducted At First Methodist Church Here

Thomas William Corry, 72, died at 6:30 a. m. Thursday at a local hospital, where he had been a patient for several days. Death was caused by a rupture of the stomach.

The body will be taken from Peters funeral chapel at 2:45 p. m. Friday to the First Methodist church, where the services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Officiating clergymen will be Rev. W. C. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist church; Rev. R. M. Bentley, pastor of Gordon Avenue church; Rev. Martin Hebert, pastor of the First Methodist church of West Monroe; Rev. H. W. Ledbetter, West Monroe; and Rev. R. W. Vaughan, Ruston. The pallbearers will be members of the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church. Interment will be made in Riverview Burial park.

Mr. Corry was employed for many years by the city of Monroe, and was stationed as an officer at the Illinois Central railroad crossing at North Second street. He was a native of Claiborne parish, but had resided here for the larger part of his lifetime. He was married many years ago to Miss Eula Barr, daughter of Rev. D. C. Barr, now of Oak Ridge and one of the best known and most highly regarded superannuated Methodist pastors in the state. She died several years ago.

Surving are two sons, W. Barr Corry and Robert Corry, and two daughters, Miss Eloise Corry and Mrs. L. A. De Marchi, all of Monroe. He also leaves three brothers and three sisters: J. R. Corry, Arizonia, La.; G. A. Corry and H. P. Corry, Rayville; Mrs. J. R. Watson, Homer; Mrs. M. E. Palmer, Gibbsland; and Miss Mattie Corry, Arizona.

FAIR OFFICE TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

Official Will Be In Charge Every Day Until Exhibit Opens

An office for the management of the Ouachita Valley Fair association at the grounds on Victory street, West Monroe, will be opened Friday, according to an announcement made by George H. Dierlamm, manager. It is a room on a truck, where Mr. Dierlamm or an assistant will be on duty each day until the fair opens. Office hours will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Persons desiring entry blanks or other information about the fair can obtain such at the office.

In addition to Sidney Stewart, chairman of the agricultural department exhibits, the other committee members are George A. Strozier, B. A. Tarver and Charles Beadles.

The livestock committee is headed by C. C. Scharf. Other members are Sandel Berry and Fred Gasken.

Work Starts October 2 On Presbyterian Manse

JONESVILLE, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Contract for the erection of a manse for the Jonesville Presbyterian church will be let in time for work to start on October 2, it is announced.

The manse, which was planned by Wilbur Ellis, Monroe contractor, will be a five-room frame dwelling and will cost $2,000. It is expected to be completed by October 15, according to K. C. Seawright, pastor of the church.

Funds for the residence were raised by public donations. It will be located on the same lot with the church.

The pastor has been forced to reside in Winnsboro because of the lack of homes here.

The church is the oldest Presbyterian church in central Louisiana, its history dating back to the Civil war. The first church building was destroyed by Federal troops during the Civil war, and a new building was erected later.

MONROE CLUB HOST TO VICKSBURG GROUP

Twenty members of the Y's Men's club of Vicksburg, Miss., were guests at the weekly dinner of the Monroe club at Hotel Frances Wednesday night.

After the meal was concluded, the entire party adjourned to Forsythe park, where a game of soft ball was played between the locals and the visitors. The Mississippians won by a score of 2 to 1.

Jimmy Townes was introduced as a new member. The program next week will be in the charge of Bennie Swayze.

EDUCATORS WILL MEET SATURDAY

Physical Education Will Be Theme Discussed At School

Principals of all elementary schools of Ouachita parish, as well as all fifth grade teachers, will meet Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium of the Ouachita parish grammar school for a series of talks on the subject of physical education.

Dr. Douglas Williams, director of the Ouachita parish health unit, will outline plans of his department, while Miss Bernice Wright, executive secretary of the Ouachita Parish Tuberculosis and Publie Health association, will outline her plans to be carried out through the schools.

A representative from Louisiana State university will discuss plans for holding an extension course here in physical education. Such courses are proposed for Columbia, Bastrop and many other cities and towns of this section, as well as throughout the state. A new director of physical education has been employed by Louisiana State university this year and he will have charge of all extension work in his line.

The new requirements are that public schools of the state give attention to physical education. It was with this end in view that the Peters building was purchased by the Ouachita Parish School board. It will be equipped at an early date with gymnasium appliances and classes will be given physical instruction and exercise.

West Carroll Fair Is To Start October 9th

OAK GROVE, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Plans for the eighteenth annual West Carroll Parish fair, to be held here October 9-12, inclusive, are taking shape, according to R. E. Benton, secretary-manager, and A. G. Fitzgerald, president of the fair association.

A premium list and rules were released this week, and entertainment and other features are being worked out.

The four-day fair this year, despite "poorer than usual" crop conditions in West Carroll, is expected to prove an all-round success. Many exhibits are anticipated. October 11 will be "school day" at the fair, and all school teachers and children of West Carroll and East Carroll parishes are to be admitted to the grounds without charge.

Premiums will be paid in cash on the grounds October 11. All exhibits must be in place, according to the rules, by 9 o'clock a.m. on the opening day. First and second prize-winning exhibits are subject to be taken to the state fair at Shreveport.

A rodeo is to be the principal grandstand attraction, and other entertainment features are being arranged. Several educational booths will be on the grounds.

Unidentified Negro Is Killed By Freight Train

The mangled body of an unidentified negro man was discovered along the right of way of the Arkansas and Louisiana Missouri railroad, where its tracks intersect the Sterlington highway, about one and a half miles northeast of Monroe early Thursday morning.

The body was cut completely in two. Both legs were severed and there was a deep laceration on the head.

Authorities assume that the negro was a transient on a Wednesday night freight train and in leaping from the train was trapped under the wheels in some manner.

Although investigating detectives said that the negro's face was familiar to them, no fingerprint records of him were held by the police and sheriff's department.

Fingerprint Expert H. H. Douglas of the police department obtained fingerprints from the body and copies were forwarded to Bafon Rouge and Washington in an attempt to identify the negro.

PERMITS ISSUED IN WEST MONROE

Total Construction Given Since Beginning Of Present Year

The total expenditure on construction work in West Monroe, as represented by building permits issued at the city hall since January 1, 1935, is $16,674. The addition to the Millsaps school, calling for an expenditure of $7,824, was the largest item listed.

Three small permits were issued in March. They were as follows: Corner Grocery company, addition, $100; Mrs. Mary Brock, addition to dwelling at 1109 Cypress street, $100; F. E. Frost, frame addition to house on North Fifth street, $100.

During April the following permits were issued: Frank Varino, Triangle Filling station, $800; F. E. Frost, one-story frame addition to building, North Fifth street, $200; Marlin Hattaway, two tourist cabins, 1311 Cypress street, $150.

During May, June and July one permit for each month was issued. They were in sequence, F. B. Phillips, residence on Trenton street, $1,850; addition to Ransom school house, $2,200; brick addition to Millsaps school building, $7,824.

Three permits issued in August were as follows: J. M. Aberg Construction company, office on Trenton street, $150; Monroe Service station, remodelling dwelling at 515 Cypress street, $600; Warren and Warren stucco filling station at corner of Trenton and Wood streets $2,500.

One permit thus far has been issued for the present month as follows: S. L. Clark, two-story garage apartment in Travelers' Rest subdivision, $100.

HAY IN LOCAL GARAGE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Hay stacked in a frame garage building at the residence of John Catalina, 316 Egan street, caught fire yesterday afternoon and firemen were called to extinguish the flames. Thirty-six bales of hay were in the garage and about 18 of them were destroyed. The building was not damaged, it was reported. Yesterday morning firemen were called to the traffic bridge across the Ouachita river here where a plank had been set afire by a burning cigarette stub. The damage was negligible.

800 In Attendance At James Family Reunion

WINNFIELD, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—The James family reunion, the largest in this section, was held at the Hudson camp ground Sunday with about 800 in attendance, representing five states. It was the third annual reunion of the family, which has been perfected into a permanent organization, known as the James Memorial Homecoming association.

Tom James of Columbia, 91-year-old member and oldest of the clan, is president of the organization. Dr. D. E. James of Holly Springs, Ark., vice-president of the association, presided.

Wayland Smith, of Oak Grove, historian, gave an interesting sketch of the family.

The morning program was concluded with the election of officers. The president, vice-president and historian were reelected and Leo Sowers of Winnfield was elected secretary.

RABBI HIRSCH TO PREACH SERMONS

Services Friday And Saturday Will Be Suited To New Year

The festival of the Jewish New Year will be observed here starting at sunset Friday. At the usual service hour at Temple B'Nai Israel, Rabbi F. K. Hirsch will preach a sermon on "Come thou with us," Numbers 10:29.

On Saturday morning, the seventh anniversary of the rabbi's incumbency will be observed with a special sermon. At this time he will take for his text "The years seemed but a few days." Genesis 29:20.

Stores of the city whose owners are of Jewish faith will be closed on Saturday, due to the holiday, until 6 p.m., when they will re-open for the usual evening hours.

CHOUDRANT, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Officers have been elected by the senior class of Choudrant High school. They are Elizabeth Vining, president; James Williams, vice-president; and Louise Easterling, secretary-treasurer. For the fourth consecutive year, Mrs. D. F. O'Neal was chosen the faculty sponsor of the class. There are 28 students in the class.

AGED MONTEREY RESIDENT DIES

Civil War Veteran Passes Away At The Age Of 94 Years

MONTEREY, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—William Adkins Cross Sr., 94, only surviving civil war veteran in Concordia and Catahoula parishes, died at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Augusta Cross Burley, at 7 o'clock Thursday morning after a brief illness.

"Uncle Billy" as Mr. Cross was affectionately known, was related to numerous residents of Concordia parish, and was active up until the time of his illness. He had planned to enter an old fiddlers' contest, to be held at the Concordia Parish fair.

Up until the last few years, Mr. Cross had been a faithful attendant at Confederate reunions and was active in both community and parish affairs. He was one of the most popular residents of this section.

Mr. Cross was born on December 15, 1840, near Columbia, S. C., and his family moved to Louisiana in 1849. He enlisted in the Confederate army at the age of 21, and was a member of company 'C,' of the twenty-fifth Louisiana regiment, known as the "Concordia Star Guards," which was under the command of Captain Samuel C. Scott.

"Uncle Billy" Cross was wounded during a 90 day engagement of his company with General Sherman, on the Union army's march to the sea.

Mr. Cross was the parent of seven children, three of whom survive. They are: M. G. Cross, Ferriday; W. A. Cross, Jr., and S. B. Cross of Monterey. He is also survived by two half-brothers, Levi Cross of Monterey and Jim Cross of Vidalia; also a half-sister, Mrs. Mack Enloe of Monterey. He is also survived by 19 grandchildren and 38 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held at Scott cemetery, on the banks of Horseshoe lnke, a few yards from the residence of Mrs. Burley.

Tuberculosis has been found in 57 different parts of bovine animals.

'Houma Day' Observed By Methodist Society

WINNFIELD, La., Sept. 26.—(Special)—"Houma day" was observed in a very unusual way by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church Monday afternoon, when a joint meeting of all the circles was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Mixon at Saline lake, on the Allen fish preserve, fifteen miles west of here.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at the conclusion of the program, which was concerned chiefly with discussions of topics relative to the Methodist French mission school at Houma.

The surface of the human body is approximately 16 square feet.

SUIT FILED

Declaring that he suffered a sunstroke last July 16 while employed by the Central Construction company, Inc., in road construction, and that he has been unable to work since that time, Tom Duffy, negro, filed suit against the company in the district court here yesterday for compensation of $3,120.

The leaves of Turkish tobacco are strung one by one like beads (see how it is done in the picture). After the leaves are strung they are packed in bales (see picture) —sometimes as many as 80,000 leaves to the bale.

We have on hand at all times for CHESTERFIELD cigarettes upwards of 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco . . .
The pleasing aroma and flavor of Turkish tobacco is almost necessary if you want a good cigarette.
Turkish tobacco is more costly when you take into account that you have to pay 35c a pound duty, but we have to have it to blend with our mild ripe home-grown tobaccos.
It helps make Chesterfields milder, it helps give them better taste. Just try them.
